

September Tribble Stop Trafficking Project

September Tribble is a wife, mother, grandmother, and former KC business owner. She has been actively engaged in the battle to combat domestic minor sex trafficking (DMST) and commercial sexual exploitation (CSE) since 2011. September is a visionary leader with a mission to see youth and communities become educated and empowered to prevent this horrific crime! Her passion for prevention and healing was first realized as a volunteer with Exodus Cry. The span of her journey thus far has included: founding member at KC Street Hope; Certified Aware presenter and trainer; Regional Coordinator for Aware KC; and Executive Director at Restoration House of Greater Kansas City. September currently serves with The Stop Trafficking Project as a DMST awareness and prevention specialist, and certified BeAlert presenter and trainer. She is a DMST survivor and a committed victim advocate who has over 170 documented hours of specialized trainings and certifications.

September and her husband, Scott, have a blended family consisting of 9 children and are currently blessed with 10 beautiful grandchildren. They are former foster parents and active members at Antioch Church in Overland Park, KS.
