Birth through 6th Teaching

Thank you for agreeing to serve the children of the church. The children are the future of God's work and the teacher is the key in shaping each child.

Support-If you have any questions regarding curriculum or supplies, please see Leeann Howard.

If you are unable to teach during one of your times please try to secure a substitute teacher. A list of those who are already signed up for teaching is available.

We are here to shape the minds and hearts of the future. Over the course of time, children may need direction concerning proper behavior. If you are having issues in your class, please communicate with the parent/s of the child/children. Eric Saunders, Andy Pennington and Leeann Howard are available for assistance, if you should need it. A "hands-off" approach to disciplinary matters should always be taken. If a situation occurs in class that necessitates outside help, please contact Eric Saunders (479)-790-9512, Andy Pennington (501) 328-7589 or Leeann Howard (501) 499-1214. Please make sure that the parents of the child pick the child up from class.

Students learn more and are more productive when they are not bored. The amount of time that a child can sit still is dependent and varies upon age. The younger a child is, the more frequent they need to move around. Another method to increase productivity is to keep the amount of time spent on any single activity to a minimum. A general rule of thumb is "No more than ten minutes on any activity". This can always be adjusted based upon the activity, interest and age of the children.

You will be dealing with children from many backgrounds and families. Some families may be apprehensive on information about their child being publicly available. For this reason, and others, we ask that you not take pictures/video and/or post via social media activities and events from class without parental approval.
