"The Journey: What We Hear Along the Way"

Pastor
Jan Yandell

Dear Friends and Friends I have not yet met,

Transfiguration Sunday is one of those Sundays when people hear the story and think, this sounds familiar, but what does it mean! The transfiguration refers to the transition that takes place in the visual countenance of Jesus when he is encountered by God and visited by Moses and Elijah. But it is also the time when he makes a conversion from teacher and counselor to his task of being the sacrificial lamb for the sins of the world.

The voice from the cloud says something similar to what was said at Jesus' baptism, but that voice was heard only by Jesus and was an affirmation of who Jesus was and that God was pleased with him. That was at the beginning of his ministry, now that very same voice speaks the same words, but adds, "Listen to him!"; This being said toward the end of his ministry.

What is the message? What is it that we need to hear now, that we did not need to hear in the beginning? Or, did we just not listen before and now, as his time on earth draws near an end, do we need to start listening. The fact that the voice from the cloud, the voice of God, calls for us to listen gives even more authority to what Jesus has been teaching for three years. We need to start paying attention, we need to start putting other things aside, we need to start quieting the other noises in our lives and LISTEN TO HIM!

Is that clear enough for you?? It is for me!!

Blessings, PJ

*Call to Worship

Leader: O Lord, you take us to the mountaintop, but we are dizzied by the height.

People: You show us who you are but we are blinded by the brilliance of your garment.

Leader: You would have us know the importance of the present, but we are visited by prophets wearing mantels of the past.

People: You would teach us how to build your kingdom, but we are content merely to erect your shelter.

Leader: You would make clear your will for us, but we are overshadowed by a cloud.

People: You would speak to us and make things plain, but we are amazed by another voice rumbling from heaven.

Leader: O Lord, at your baptism the sun shone like your garment does now, and the prophet John laid his hands on your head. At your baptism something new was beginning, but we did not know what it was; something new was being said, but we could not hear the voice.

People: But now we hear, and the voice is saying, "This is my beloved Son; listen to him!"

Leader: And though we still question in our hearts what this means,

People: We will follow you.

Leader: And though we descend the mountain fearing what mystery lies ahead,

People: We will trust you. As surely as God lives, we will never leave you! (Tilson & Cole 1990)
