PJ's Post

Dear Friends and Friends I have not yet met,

The week after Easter is always a little anti-climactic. So much is stuffed into Holy Week and rightfully Easter carries all the pomp and circumstance of the crowning of the King! So now it is time to breathe, and realize it was not all for show, but indeed to celebrate the gift we have been given through Jesus Christ.

It is a huge gift, a nearly unimaginable gift. When Jesus died on the cross it was to take away the sins of the world, including yours and mine. When he rose from the dead it was to assure us that death is not the end, but only the page turning to a new chapter of our book of life. Two things, sins forgiven and life everlasting. If you put them together it means eternal life with no sin, no fear, no hatred, prejudice or war.

The weeks after Easter or no less important than the day we celebrate the miracle of Christ's rising. It is a time to realize that we have the opportunity each and every day to allow that Risen Christ to rise from the barriers of our pride or shyness, and let the world see that we are Easter people. Living life as Jesus lived: lives of love, respect, forgiveness, and acceptance; lives of hope, peace, patience and extreme joy; lives that reflect the courage Jesus had when faced with people who just didn't understand, the courage he had in the face of death.

The Easter Season is a time when the Risen Christ visited his disciples and let them know he was indeed alive. I pray you allow him to visit you, and realize just how alive he really is!

Blessings in this Easter Season,
PJ

Good Morning All!

I hope everyone had a beautiful and blessed Easter; we certainly did and it helped that the weather held out for most of the day! A big thank you to everyone that helped with Palm Sunday and the Easter Egg Hunt- all the children loved it and we had a great time. An extra big thank you to our wonderful Youth- I think they had just as much fun hiding the eggs as the kids did finding them.

Please take a moment to look at the bulletin board for lots of fun pictures of the Lenten Season and Easter :)

This week is regular Sunday School and Children's Choir practice (10:50)

Have a fantastic week,
Ms. Johanna

Confirmation 2017

We are finishing up our Confirmation Series this week with our last profile; Confirmation Sunday is May 7th at 10am service. Please consider attending as we welcome our youth as new church members. A cake and punch reception will follow.

Last but certainly not least of our confirmands is Osmund Abel, or "Ozzie" as he prefers to be called. Ozzie lives with his parents and 2 brothers and is attending confirmation with his close friend Zane. He attends Madison Ave. School and his favorite subject is Math. He loves Math!

When Ozzie is older he would love to play in the MLB. Maybe we'll see him in the Cleveland Indians lineup one day! He says hanging out with his friends and playing baseball is the best but it's also good to relax and spend time with family. He also likes going to school so he can see his friends!

He's looking forward to learning more about worshiping God and hearing about Jesus during confirmation. He thinks church is important because it gives us a safe place to learn and focus on God.

Please be sure to say Hi to Ozzie!

*Call to Worship
Leader: Jesus of Nazareth was handed over to be killed.

People: But God used this event to show us the power God has over death.

Leader: Jesus of Nazareth was lowered into a tomb.

People: But God raised him up for the grave could not contain him.

Leader: Jesus of Nazareth made known to us the ways of life!

People: And those ways of life are everlasting! In life, in death, in life after death
Jesus is Lord! He lives in us, through us and for us forever! Hallelujah!
