"What He Did for Love!"

Pastor
 Jan Yandell

Dear Friends and Friends I have not yet met,

As school is beginning in the area in the next few weeks, it is a good time to talk about goals and how best to achieve them. Jacob had the goal of marrying Rachel and worked for seven years for Laban in order to reach that goal only to be given in marriage to Leah, the older sister. But was Jacob deterred from his original goal, not at all. He worked seven more years because he knew what (or who) he wanted and was willing to pay the extra sacrifice of time and energy to make it happen.

Many in our families are starting a new school year, there will be visions of what they want to achieve and there will be some goals that are not met. The lesson we learn from Jacob is to never give up, never settle for less than what you really want, and never stop working for your goal.

Pray for all students and teachers as they begin another year in the classrooms.

Blessings,
 PJ
