"The Journey: Who We Meet Along the Way"

Pastor
Jan Yandell

Dear Friends and Friends I have not yet met,

Today we are remembering a man who most of us did not know personally, but we have come to know through the media, the history books, and his legacy. Martin Luther King, Jr. is part of our heritage as we celebrate Human Relations Sunday. Human relationships are what we are all about. Our relationship with Jesus and He with us. Our relationships with each other, and with those, as I always begin these posts, we have not yet met, is what makes our congregation warm, friendly, and inviting. But, we are not just about building the church, we are striving to grow God's kingdom.

The growth of the kingdom can happen when each of us becomes more aware of the people God puts in our path; those both inside and outside these walls. If they are different than we, then you know God has placed them in your life for you to realize the beauty of the diversity of God's creation. It is just amazing to me that no two people are alike (and I am an identical twin!) The fascinating thing is that each person has a special calling by God and part of their calling is their interaction with you. No encounter is a mistake, no meeting of people on your journey is coincidental or accidental. People, all people, are fascinating. I pray you will pay attention and create new relationships this week. It is all a part of God's amazing plan.

The Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. once said, "We may have all come on different ships, but we're in the same boat now." So let's unfurl the sails together and enjoy the journey with one another!

Blessings,

PJ

Children's Time

*Call to Worship

Leader: Jesus passed along the Sea of Galilee and called to the fishermen there.

People: Peter and Andrew, James and John left their nets and followed Jesus.

Leader: God put the fishermen in the right place at the right time, so Jesus would see them, welcome them and use them in his ministry.

People: We, like Jesus, will keep our eyes open for those people God puts in our way, those who God has called to be in ministry with us. Help us to see them, welcome them and use them all in the name of Jesus our Lord.

*Opening Hymn                                      God Made From One Blood                                      FWS #2170

*Passing the Peace of Christ
