PJ's Post

Well we have another successful youth mission trip under our belt! We arrived home safely on Saturday, exhausted but happy with what we were able to accomplish and the experiences we had.

We thank you for keeping us in your prayers. It meant the world to know we had the care and support of our church family as we were out doing God's work in Wilmington, Delaware. We have so much to tell you and can't wait to share our experiences. We'll be planning an evening when we can do so and I hope that you'll all join us. In the meantime, below is a picture of a few of us in action.

Blessings,
PJ

Christian Education

Good Morning Everyone!

Tomorrow starts our Adventure to Peru for VBS!! Please, Please register online if you haven't already...We will take walk ins of course but it helps to register ahead of time :)

I'm still in need of a few food donations; Banana Chips, French Fries, Popcorn, Ice Cream and Mango Juice- please take a minute to look at the signup in the Circle Room (near Susan's office) and see if you can help us! VBS is free but we love donations to help with our overall cost.

I'm so excited to start my first VBS...well, not first ever, I was Ms. Judy's helper for many many years- but my first since joining the staff. Please pray for us as the kids have a fun filled week of Bible adventures and lessons.

Have a fantastic week, see you soon!
Ms. Johanna

Volunteer Spotlight: By Judy Hempel

"Volunteers do not necessarily have the time; they just have the heart." - Elizabeth Andrew

Some people are multi-talented; that certainly includes our volunteer we feature this month. Not only does she have the ability and presence to deliver a powerful message in worship, but she taps her creative side and sense of design to decorate our church for the special Christian holidays we celebrate.

Our volunteer has been a member of our church for 20 years and during those years she has served as Lay leader, a member on various committees, Sunday school teacher, and most recently led a session of committee chairs on their duties regarding the committees they head. The ultimate goal of that special session was to develop a vision and mission for our church.

Having been a survivor of cancer herself, this volunteer demonstrates her strong empathy and compassion to several of our members who deal with the issues and stages of cancer, always providing prayers and a listening ear.

Bringing her great joy is her family, including daughter Kelly, husband Todd, and their three children, Bill, Michael, and Natalie. The kid's nickname for their grandmother is "Poppy". Bill enjoys going with his grandmother to watch trains and listen to sirens. Brother Michael recently went with "Poppy" to see a car show. He likes her jokes and says his grandmother is a good person. Natalie likes going to movies and shopping with her grandmother.

I totally agree with Michael; this volunteer is a genuinely good person and we thank her for all her dedication to the church we love.

"So That GOD May Be
ALL In ALL
In The Middle Of It All!"
1 Corinthians 15:28

Ms. Margie's mission definition: A divine activity of going out into the world and spread the Christian faith; to speak or do God's will by helping other persons in need through charitable deeds.

This past week we worked with our hands, minds and hearts as we completed God's work for others. Many hands are blistered and callused. Bodies are tired. Our minds are full of lasting memories that reflect on our week. Our hearts are full of pride for the work we accomplished and knowing we helped others. Our inner spirits shine with God's light, for he has blessed each of us for our hard work and charitable deeds.
