Dear Friends and Friends I have not yet met,

We are honored today to have Rev. Marvin Brown sharing the message for our Consecration Sunday. Reverend Brown spoke a few years ago when I was ill and he was gracious enough to accept the invitation from the Stewardship Committee for today. He is a retired elder of the United Methodist Church living in Chardon. He pastored Cuyahoga First UMC for many years when it was the largest church in the East Ohio Conference. His love of God is evident in the depth of his message and the joy he finds in his relationship with Jesus Christ.

I am so grateful to our Stewardship Committee who has worked diligently on this program of Consecration Sunday. Headed up by Stacey Rogers, the committee consists of Kathleen Thompson, Dick Stadel, Kris Firth, Deb Kendrick, Johanna Ahlman, Kumba Alafi and Rev. Brown. Other staff and finance committee members were also helpful in communications and other parts of the program. It was an outstanding effort by all both in their hard work and their joyful spirit.

All of the people listed above have a deep sense of commitment to Jesus Christ and his church. Their sense of God's working in their lives and their understanding of God's purpose for the church is evident in the time they spent, the effort they gave, and their willingness to go above and beyond the call of duty to see this day become a reality.

God is good...All the time!! Many thanks for a job well done!

But I would be remiss if I did not give another shout out to all of you, this special family of God drawn to this place of worship. Your generosity, your willingness to help, your love of God and God's people, has created an atmosphere of acceptance and love, which has brought new people into the fold, more people into God's kingdom. Thank you all so very much for being who you are and for following God's call into the ministry of this church.

Blessings, PJ
