Reaping the Harvest

The humidity has vanished, and the crisp air is creeping in. “Fall-lelujah!” As summer is coming to an end and crops are being cleared, I have benefited from many fruits of your labor! Our new home came with a raised garden of sorts, but many of you know something did not quite go as expected. We worked hard, we tilled, we watered, we waited. No fruit. We scratched our heads.

God still provided us with delicious tomatoes and toddler sized watermelons through many of you, whose harvests were plentiful. You sowed and you shared. The beautiful picture here is illuminated far beyond your crops and gardens.

Deep Creek is blessed to partner with multiple area ministries that give back to our community. These ministry partners intentionally take our harvest and find ways to multiply it. They work selflessly to find those in need and strategically share your offerings. I am so proud to be a part of a church family who chooses to share their blessings. Your consistent giving and abundant generosity have enabled our church to continue to support our Ministry Partners during this time of uncertainty. I also celebrate that it is not just our money that is supporting our community ministry partners, but several of you are faithful “boots on the ground” servants as well.

A blessing for me during COVID-19 has been the opportunity to serve at Yadkin Christian Ministry (YCM) on Monday afternoons alongside some of our incredible church members. You do not need me to tell you the faithful and great work YCM does serving our community. However, when I got to see firsthand how our offerings were being put to work and bless so many I have been inspired and encouraged. Even during COVID-19 YCM has met the needs of many in the county. I am proud of our church family for choosing to faithfully partner with them.

I am excited that YCM’s Director, Beth Steelman, will join us on Sunday, October 18. This will be a great opportunity to learn more about is happening at YCM, but also how we can continue to be praying and supporting this ministry partner. Please take note of the items we are collecting in October to benefit YCM. Thank you for your faithful prayers, generous giving, and support at Deep Creek Baptist Church.

Be Encouraged,

Pastor Nathan
