

The ENLIGHTENER

Pastor's Message:

Now two of them were going to a village called Emmaus... (see Luke 24: 13-35)

Two of the disciples were headed out of town on Easter evening. They had given up on Jerusalem, and on all that it had promised. They were probably headed back home to Galilee. After all, everything that they had counted on, especially the person that they counted on most, was gone wrong, or gone altogether. And so they headed west, toward Emmaus, into the sunset, like a scene out of some old western movie.

A stranger joined them on the road, someone who seemed to know a lot about Jesus and about the scriptures. They told him how Jesus had been executed and buried, and then disappeared...how some of the women had heard that he was alive...and how the men did not, could not, believe it. The stranger told them every prophecy in the Hebrew Scriptures that pointed to Jesus and what had happened to him, and how what they had heard was true. He seemed strangely comforting, so they asked him to eat and stay with them at a nearby inn. As they got ready to eat, he took the bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them. As he did, they recognized him as Jesus, who had broken bread with them three nights before, and hundreds of ordinary days before that. Even as they recognized him, he disappeared from their sight.

Even though it was late in the day, they got up and returned to Jerusalem to find the other disciples.

They turned their backs on the sunset; they turned their backs on a story that was coming to an end; they turned their backs on disbelief and headed back. They headed back toward the sunrise of a new day; they headed back to a story that was just beginning; they headed back to belief, and the sharing of that belief.

They were able to do so because they had let Jesus come into their ordinary, everyday lives. They did not believe when he told them they should believe; they did not believe when he quoted scripture to them. (Neither do we, most of the time, even if Jesus himself quoted it to us!) They believed when Jesus shared with them the ordinary act of breaking bread.

We also find that Jesus is not very real if he stays in church or in the Bible. He only becomes real to us when we let him into our everyday lives – where we eat, and sleep, and share with friends and family. For those disciples, Easter Sunday morning was not what counted, it was Sunday night, and Monday morning, and all the new days that followed. Easter is past for this year. But the reality of Easter is not simply for a day or a season, but for all the new days that follow.

May the risen Christ be part of your every meal, your every journey, your everyday.

In Christ's love,

Pastor Matt Stengel

Welcome

To the members of the Greece United Methodist Church:

I am so blessed to be called to serve in ministry and look forward to meeting you all. This will be a return to the Rochester area for me as I was raised in Henrietta. I have a wife and three children who are active in many activities, including the church, and we look forward to engaging with all that Greece and the surrounding area has to offer!

I was raised in Henrietta and graduated from Rush-Henrietta High School in 1994. From there I attend Finger Lakes Community College, and then at SUNY Fredonia where I held a dual major in performance and Music Education. I stayed on at SUNY Fredonia where I obtained my MS in education in 2001.

It was during my time at Fredonia that I met my wife and became connected with the Methodist Church. After we were married, we moved to the Southern Tier of NY where I soon became a member of the Whitney Point United Methodist church.

Sarah and I began married life together, both as music teachers. I taught elementary music for 10 years before answering my call to ministry. As our family grew, so also did my faith. I became the choir director of the Whitney Point church soon after we were married and joined and eventually led Bible studies, and after attending the Walk to Emmaus, felt the calling to ministry. In truth, the calling had always been there, but it didn't become clear to me until I was in my early 30s.

I attended Local licensing classes and began serving in ministry in 2011. I served two small rural churches at ¾ time as I worked my way through seminary at Colgate Rochester Crozer Divinity School in Rochester NY. I graduated from seminary in 2015, and that same spring I was commissioned as an Elder in the Upper NY Annual Conference. I was ordained as an Elder in the Upper NY Annual Conference in the spring of 2017.

In 2016 I was appointed the First United Methodist Church of Voorheesville where I have served as pastor through 2021. During this time, I have also served on the Albany District Leadership team and have helped to facilitate both pastoral leadership development and lay leadership development classes.

A few fun facts about me. I am a huge Buffalo Bills fan, as well as a huge NY Yankees fan. I enjoy playing golf and fishing when time allows. I am a sucker for baked goods, and I love engaging others in conversation over a cup of coffee and a donut. I look forward to many conversations, cups of coffee, and donuts in the future as I get to know you all.

Message from Outreach:

Hear ye! Hear ye! Spring has arrived (AH-CHooo!), and we continue to lend helping hands to several projects.

Sunday, May 30, is our next Undie Sunday, marking our final collection for this school year. Nurses also welcome socks and pants. Remember, we are also accepting donations of ADULT undies for the Open Door Mission and/or Veterans Outreach. (August 29 = next Undie Sunday)

Our Zoom Bible Study sessions with Atria and Elderwood residents on Wednesday mornings have been going well, usually averaging 12 participants total. In addition to Gale Huber, Sharon Neary, and Karen Pearson, Dennis Wake has joined the team! Attendees enjoy hearing scriptures, stories, and hymns each week. This month, the ladies will receive a special Jackson's cookie and a small flower for Mother's Day.

Hoping for a healthier environment, the CROP Walk, traditionally held in May, has been scheduled for September. Stay tuned for the details as they become available.

By this time, we have usually celebrated Mission Sunday and received pledges to support various organizations, but, because of covid, that, too, is on hold for now.

Please accept our NOTE of THANKS for your support!

Words of Life

By Adam Hamilton

A landmark look at the most important set of ethics in history! Viewing the Ten Commandments not as burdens but as guideposts, Hamilton considers their meaning in historical context, unpacks Jesus' interpretation of them, explores how the latest psychological and scientific research illuminates them, and shows how every "thou shalt not" points to a life-giving "thou shalt."

On The Come Up

by Angie Thomas

Sixteen-year-old Bri wants to be one of the greatest rappers of all time. Or at least make it out of her neighborhood one day. As the daughter of an underground rap legend who died before he hit big, Bri's got big shoes to fill. But now that her mom has unexpectedly lost her job, food banks and shutoff notices are as much a part of Bri's life as beats and rhymes. With bills piling up and homelessness staring her family down, Bri no longer just wants to make it—she has to make it.

On the Come Up is Angie Thomas's homage to hip-hop, the art that sparked her passion for storytelling and continues to inspire her to this day. It is the story of fighting for your dreams, even as the odds are stacked against you; of the struggle to become who you are and not who everyone expects you to be; and of the desperate realities of poor and working-class black families.

Thoughts from Lisa Kostyshak:

"Time to Clean Out the Closet." By Michelle Knoll

Ah, springtime... I love spring! The signs of new life are all around us, in the trees and the flowers and bushes. Even the birds sound happier! It's just a wonderful time of year.

Spring also gets my thoughts going about "spring cleaning." I'm sure everyone knows about this specific time in the life of a house, where the "woman of the house" sets her sights on getting rid of dust, dirt and clutter. She makes a list of all the chores that need to be accomplished, in order to breathe new life into her dwelling place. It's a way of bringing into the house the life that is bursting forth outside in nature.

One of the biggest chores is the cleaning out of closets.

The closet. It is well-known as the notorious "hider" of things; people place things in their closets that they soon forget even exist. And then, when spring comes, the closet door is thrown wide open, and the rummaging begins. However, it's a productive sort of rummaging, as things are discovered and sorted, and either tossed or set aside to be placed in better order.

As I was thinking about this, the thought occurred to me that maybe more than just physical closets need to be cleaned out. We all have a spiritual "closet" that also needs cleaning out from time to time. There are things hidden there, and the funny thing is we try to even hide them from the Father, Who knows all things. But there's no way to hide them, and besides, all they do is collect dust, which eventually causes things to smell musty and old.

What's in your spiritual closet? Are there thoughts of pride? Are there doubts and fears? Are there resentments, wounds, feelings of bitterness? All of these things that maybe you thought you had already dealt with, but in reality, all you did was stuff 'em in the closet?

Well, it's time to rummage through the closet, get those things out into the light, and put them where they belong.

While you're in "spring cleaning mode," have you thought about your prayer closet? Do you have prayer needs that you're not spending time on? Do you have a list that's "a mile long," because you've not been dealing with issues that God has placed on your heart? Do you need to spend time cleaning out your prayer closet?

Don't feel bad. We all have closets that need cleaning out. We all need to be focusing on the hidden areas of our "houses." So grab the trash bags, and the vacuum, and the duster, and swing the door wide open. No matter what you find in there, God can help you deal with it all, and get the closet in better shape. And then you'll feel better about your whole house.

Time to enjoy spring!
