Dear Friends,
2014

June

Yesterday we said goodbye to two more students who have come for a brief visit with us. Alicia and Rhonda have been doing some extensive traveling with their father in recent days and made our home their last stop before returning to their home in Miami.

Through the girls' faithful attendance in the Bible study at FIU, we quickly learned to love these two Syrian sisters. (You may remember Alicia as the student who went from being a strong believer in evolution to a now, vocal believer in the truth of Genesis and God as the Creator.) We also were privileged to develop a relationship with some of their brothers and their father, Albert. Many spiritual discussions were part of this growing relationship between Mike and Albert. What a privilege to invest in the life of this unsaved man while we were in Miami.

When we asked Rhonda this week what God has been doing in her life, her brown Middle-Eastern eyes sparkled with delight as she shared how God has been answering prayer in regard to Albert's spiritual journey. Though we are still waiting for God to redeem Albert, we rejoice with the sisters over the softening of his heart, continual questions about God, and reception to spiritual matters taking place in Albert's life.

He spent more time visiting with Mike this week and helped Sharon in the kitchen in his bare feet. Albert was happy to add flatbread, tomatoes, and cucumbers to the breakfast of Persian Egg Pie she made for everyone. Will you join us in continual prayer for the salvation of this dear Greek/Syrian man?

More pictures of Albert can be found on our web site, along with those of the vacation Bible school we were able to serve in this month as well. Mike was asked to teach the adult class of a well-prayed for and well-prepared VBS at a small church in Georgia. It was such a privilege to minister to the parents while their children were being taught in another part of the church.

It is also a privilege to have you on our prayer team. We pray that God will give you someone this week with whom you can share His blessed love.

Because the fields are already white,
Mike and Sharon Keller
