A Vision for a Brighter Tomorrow: 2021

Pauline Ntombura, a leader in the Methodist Women's Conference of Kenya in Africa and spouse of Kenyan Bishop Ntombura, is asking if we feel the call to support the work she has begun with girls in Kenya who refuse to allow their tribes to perform female genital mutilation (FGM) on them.

A law prohibiting FGM passed in 2011, but some of the villages outside Kenya and across Africa still practice FGM on girls, ages birth to 15 years old. Girls who refuse the FGM procedure are banished from the tribe to fend for themselves with no place to go.

Pauline has a dream to develop a home for these girls in Dira Pokot, Kenya so they can go to school and live a full and productive life.

Pauline's prayerful request: provide financial support for the creation of a shelter on 40 acres of church grounds in Kenya with a capacity of 44 beds for girls who refuse the FGM procedure.
