Study Questions

- Daniel once again shows himself to be a man of prayer. What kind of prayer does God hear?
  - From whom does God delight to hear?
- This is notoriously difficult passage. How should we approach texts like this that can cause so much confusion?
- Why does God give this prophecy to Daniel at this time?
- This passage has some things that are clearer and some things that are less clear. What are some of the things we can clearly identify in this text?
- What is it about the seventy sevens that seem to point to the work of the coming Messiah?
- What does it mean for the Messiah to be "cut off" and why is this important for us to understand the New Testament?
- This prophecy covers the vast scope of world history. What does that tell us about God and his power?
