Notes from the Pastor's Pen . .

The celebration of Easter has changed for me over the years. Once there was the excitement of getting a new outfit from top to bottom — new shoes, dress, gloves, hat. My grandmother took such pride in seeing us dressed up for Easter. And, to be honest, there was a kind of newness that filled me knowing that I was wearing new clothes — that feeling that came from knowing that what I wore on the outside made a difference in how I felt on the inside. Now, it didn't change who I was on the inside, it just changed the feelings I had. Those feelings were all too often short lived. They usually disappeared with the first stain, the first tear, or the first scuff on the new shoes. There was also something different about those feelings and those clothes the Sunday after Easter. They no longer had the same aura of newness that they held on Easter Sunday. The luster had dulled, and it was essentially back to normal again.

Now, Easter and the celebration of it have a more spiritually cognitive influence on my life. Now on Easter, I'm more aware of what Jesus has done to make me a new person — to be born again. It's not an experience that wears off after a week. It's something that makes me aware each day of the grace that was received when he was raised to new life on that first Easter morning. And his resurrection — and in some ways, mine — make me aware of the priceless value of this new life and the longevity that it seems to maintain. Next week, God's grace in Jesus Christ will be just as new as it is this week. Next week, the realization that I've been given a second, third, and fourth chance to live will be just as refreshing as it is this week and was last week. Next week at any moment, I may pause to give consideration to something from the past for which I felt I deserved to die, but was granted grace by my Christ who deemed me worthy of living. And believe me, none of those feelings came with a new set of clothes. New shoes never gave that to me.

All of this should be credited to a different relationship with Christ. Am, I still stuck in the trappings of my flesh? Well, yes. I am. And yet, the things that used to make Easter an important day in my life — things that came from a perspective of body and mind — now are viewed from a different perspective. Now, my understanding of Easter arises from a new and different relationship with Christ. I believe in my heart that Jesus was trying to get Nicodemus on board with this when he said,

"Jesus answered him, "Very truly, I tell you, no one can see the kingdom of God without being born from above." 4 Nicodemus said to him, "How can anyone be born after having grown old? Can one enter a second time into the mother's womb and be born?" 5 Jesus answered, "Very truly, I tell you, no one can enter the kingdom of God without being born of water and Spirit. 6 What is born of the flesh is flesh, and what is born of the Spirit is spirit." (John 3:3-6)

My sense is that we each experience new birth in different ways — ways that lead us into a newer and deeper relationship with Christ and our understanding of Easter. As we come through yet another glorious celebration of our new life in Christ, my prayer is that this Easter will renew your spirit and the meaning of the resurrection in your life.

I'll look for you in church!

Charitable Gift Annuity (CGA)

Your Goal:

- •Receive fixed income for life
- Avoid capital gains tax on the sale of your appreciated property
- •Enjoy the benefit of tax savings from a charitable deduction

How It Works:

•You transfer your cash or appreciated property to our organization in exchange for our promise to pay you fixed payments (with rates based on your age) for the rest of your life.

Your Benefits:

- •Charitable tax deduction
- Fixed income for life
- •Partial bypass of capital gain
- Possible tax-free payments

For more than 50 years, the Northwest United Methodist Foundation has provided United Methodist churches, agencies, and individuals with resources about stewardship, planned-giving, and endowments.

EASTER 2019

Dear Family of Christ:

As the weather begins to warm and evidence of the season's change becomes apparent, we are reminded of the upcoming special and holy celebration of Easter on Sunday, April 21st. We are writing to you today to personally invite you to attend Easter service this year and hope that you will mark our services at 9:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. on your calendar now so you can be a part of this special celebration with us.

Certainly, there is no other event more sacred and meaningful to creation than the resurrection of Jesus Christ over two-thousand years ago! Christ proclaimed to Martha in the book of John, "I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me will live, even though he dies" (John 11:25). What a wonderful promise from scripture – one that is celebrated as much today as it was thousands of years ago. Through our study of biblical stories like this one, we know that Christ was seeking a personal relationship with those around Him...and He still seeks that with each of us today.

Easter Sunday represents an opportunity for each of us to reflect on our relationship with a loving Creator and a wonderful Savior. It is a time for us to apply eternal perspective to the daily matters at hand and to contemplate our fate beyond these years on earth. We hope that you will come and celebrate with us on April 21st as we seek to honor God's steadfast faithfulness and sacrifice.

We pray that as you celebrate the upcoming holiday with family and friends, you will also find a renewed and revived faith and hope in the One who came to save us all. We pray that the words of scripture come alive for you during this season and that you don't just let it pass you by unnoticed. Please join us on Easter Sunday this year as we celebrate together!

We will enjoy an Easter Brunch together between the services, so come early or stay late. There will not be a coffee hour after second service so you may enjoy the day with your family.

We will also receive our annual Easter Offering. This year your gifts will support our Emergency Fund that provides help for those in need in our church and community. Thank you for your generosity and know that you are a blessing to this church and community.

In Christ,

Vonda McFadden Pastor Anne Hill Finance Chair
