A Global Challenge...

Today more than three hundred million people can't read or listen to God's Word in a language they can clearly understand. And estimates suggest about two thousand languages still need a translation of Scripture.

God loves each one of these people and desires to reveal Himself to them. And that's why Wycliffe is committed to seeing a Bible translation program started for every one of these languages that needs one by the year 2025.

As you might imagine, this challenge requires all kinds of people. Some need to go; others need to send them. And that's where you come in.

...A Personal Solution

Wycliffe personnel are critical to the progress of Bible translation, and they need your help! By supporting a Wycliffe missionary with your prayers, encouragement, and financial gifts, you can make an eternal difference in the lives of people around the world.

A Papua New Guinean magistrate said, "We need to use God's Word in our own language. Then God's talk will bring peace within the family, peace between clans, peace in the nation."

Many are still waiting for the life transformation that happens from experiencing God's Word in their own heart language. When you partner prayerfully and financially with a Wycliffe missionary, you play a critical role in the global Bible translation movement. You can easily begin a partnership by filling out the enclosed form. God is using the faithfulness of people like you to reach the most overlooked and forgotten peoples of the world.
