

Personal Practice: Giving Testimony and Witness

Faith on Display

Supplies: None

Not all testimony is verbal. What symbols of the faith do you have with you in your public life? Consider how your possessions reflect who you are spiritually.

Think about your desk, your workspace, or wherever you have your public life. What do the things there say about your faith? What do your possessions say about what you value? What would you be embarrassed to have your pastor/ church family see? What reflects who you are as a person of faith? Possessions are not intrinsically bad or evil. How you use them determines what they say about you.

Spend time in reflection about how you use what you have and how some of those things possess you. Would anyone who saw these things know you were indeed a person of faith? Then pray about it, having a conversation with God or with Jesus, and remember to listen as well as talk.

These things can also act as opening for conversations with others about your faith once you are aware of their presence and visibility to others.

First Congregational Church
6 Kirby Road, PO Box 1285, Washington, CT 06793
(860) 868-0569 www.FirstChurchWashingtonCT.org

