Job Opportunities

A message from Rev. Carrie Kreps Wegenast, Chaplain at Tyson Foods:

In the event that members are job searching right now, Tyson Foods is a food producer recognized by the US government as essential during the COVID-19 pandemic. We are continuing to hire for second and third shift full time general production positions at the New London location. We also have a few management support and management positions open. The attached poster can be printed and hung at your location or it can be forwarded by email.

All applications are online at <https://www.tysonfoods.com/careers>.
