VICTORIOUS LIVING IN TROUBLED TIMES

This morning we continue our sermon series in Daniel. The relevance and reasoning for this 12 week series is at least, threefold...

First, Daniel's God is our God too—and he is still on the throne. This may be the most important lesson of the book. God is in charge! Simple and clear. He is in charge of nations, families, and individuals. He is in charge of the past, the present, and the future. He is in charge of good times and bad days, of happiness and sorrow, of joy and heartache, of great victories and shocking defeats. He is in charge when a child is born and he is in charge when death knocks at your door. Studying this book ought to increase our confidence in the sovereignty of a God who makes no mistakes.

Second, Daniel's situation parallels our own. For most of his life, Daniel lived as part of a believing minority in a majority pagan culture. From the time he was a teenager until he died around the age of 90, he served under a series of pagan kings. He never had the luxury of living in a country surrounded by people who believed as he did. From his story we will draw many useful principles as we attempt to live for Christ in a world filled with people who do not share our faith.

Third, Daniel's prophecies may soon be fulfilled. This book is filled with dreams, visions, and prophecies about the end times. In the weeks to come we will discover an amazing correspondence between the words of Daniel and life in the 21st century.
