

God created a temple for Himself: the garden of Eden.
We rebelled, we left the temple, so Jesus came, God-in-person.
Jesus proclaimed the Kingdom, and lived it out in deed.
We killed Him, and Jesus embraced the cross, so we might live.
Jesus rose from the dead, proving death is not final, that indeed in Christ we are freed.

Jesus asks me to walk with Him in His way – the way of the Kingdom.
Jesus asks me to freely accept and share the Grace of God,
freely pouring from our Father's throne.
Jesus asks me to enter His temple, and be part of it,
living with God the Father Almighty in a new reality:
the new Jerusalem, the new Heaven-and-earth.

In that request, I must face up to my sin – and stop it.
In stopping my sin, I must accept that I am forgiven.
In accepting my forgiveness,
I seek baptism
into Jesus' life,
into Jesus' death,
into Jesus' resurrection,
into Jesus' bride: the church.

In being baptised into the Way of Christ,
I share with Christ a life of discipleship:
following Christ,
mimicking the Father,
through the power of the Holy Spirit
with His church
sharing Christ
for the sake of all created
In His Image.

I worship in Truth.
I carry my cross in Truth.
I pursue God in Truth.

Jesus, guide me today.

Amen.
