

The Trinity Triangle

"Even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many."

Matthew 20:28

Welcome to a New School Year at Trinity!

A new school year has begun and make necessary adjustments.

It's the beginning of a new school year. So it's a good time to take stock of your child's habits and make needed adjustments.

Talk with your child about how she thinks the school year is going. If the two of you have not set learning goals now is the time to do. Maybe review those goals now. Is she making progress? How can she make the next couple of weeks of the school year even better?

Then, help your child make some resolutions. Here are three to consider:

1. Recommit to routines. Has your child's bedtime begun to slip? Are mornings more rushed? Is her regular study time now not quite so regular? Sleep and study routines make life easier—and help kids do better in school.
2. Spend more time reading. There is no skill that will help your child more in school. And reading ability, like other skills, gets better with practice. Encourage your child to read every day. Let her read about anything, from sports to her favorite movie character.
3. Spend less time on screen media. Talk about the amount of time your child spends in front of screens. How much time does she spend watching shows and movies? Playing online games? Browsing the internet? Set and enforce limits.
