Holy Awkward Silence

“We regularly attempt to fill moments of quiet with distraction in the name of fending off boredom. People, including me, seem to instinctively grab their phones, tablets, books, laptops, music, or run to binge something on Netflix when they have a moment alone. We tend to actively avoid quiet moments of contemplation in favor of distraction. I think this is harming us spiritually.”

This is an excerpt from Jeremy's discipleship and spiritual formation blog. This blog is entitled Holy Awkward Silence and deals with the idea that silence is a much needed part of our spiritual journey. If you would like to read more, you can access the blog through St. Luke's Facebook page, <http://stlks.com/page/links>, or at <https://jeremyscottandrews.wordpress.com/2018/05/01/holy-awkward-silence/>.

Celebration of Ministry

St. Luke's was blessed by 23 members who decorated the sanctuary for our celebration of the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ. God blesses St. Luke's every day.

The bud vase this morning is given to the glory of God and in loving memory of Susan Heade by her mother, Linda Heade and her son, Austin Heade.

Hosted by St. Luke's FCS Program, God What Do I Do With My Life? was a great discussion last Sunday. Following late worship, 46 people were in attendance for a light lunch and inspiring conversation. God blessed everyone in attendance with the personal testimony of how God has worked in the lives of our panelists. Watch for announcements of future presentations.

Feb 26 – There will be a 7pm presentation by Bev Miller, Ramsey Solutions Master Financial Coach. Everyone is invited.

The flowers this morning are given to the glory of God and in memory of her father, Victor Franke by Judy Franke.
