Dear St. Stephen's Community,

We are nearly midway through the summer and although the weather verifies the season, so many other parts of our summer are missing: family celebrations, community events, trips and adventures.

I have marked this summer with my stand up paddleboard (SUP) in area lakes. It is, by definition, a social distanced hobby, because less than 6 feet from someone else may cause you to flip over. In my paddling journeys, I have seen butterflies (including rare zebra swallowtails), turtles, snakes, birds and, of course, fish.

My favorite image so far is a fawn I spotted on Lake George in Marion, KY. It was laying near the shore in a spot of brush just the right size. The fawn was not the least bit fazed by my approach. It was still, truly still.

In this time of heat, humidity, and uncertainty, I invite you to the stillness. Find your place and find your quiet.

"Be still and know that I am God."
Psalm 46:10

God's peace,
Beth+
