“For unto us a child is born,
Unto us a son is given: and the Government shall be upon his shoulders ...
Of the increase of his government and peace
There will be no end.”

■ Isaiah 9:6-7

It's been quite unfortunate in the Church that the only time we hear the above Scripture is during school Christmas plays although this is largely disappearing as well because we have allowed government by the minority who have deemed school Christmas plays and the Bible “dangerous.” Yet even in the Church and churches we rarely hear a sermon or teaching about government – there's a good reason for this. Does the above prophecy by Isaiah refer to the U.S. government? What government is he talking about?

This past week we had a change in government in the executive branch and, as we expected based on what the Lord showed us in April of 2005, a democrat is now president – he is also the media and the world's darling which should be a warning to us in the Army of the Lord.

Although the Lord has always shown us who would be president in the past this election was different – there are some disturbing differences that have never occurred before in the history of this country. As all of you know who have known us for many years we are not engaged in politics nor do we ever endorse political candidates just as we don't recommend which church for a person to attend – we believe Christians should pray about voting just as they pray about which church to attend and other spiritual things.

Something you need to understand, however, and if you have The Eye of the Eagle (if you don't know what the Eye of the Eagle is then you should order the tape/CD series) you do understand is that God often gives us spiritual signs through physical signs – very often physical things are a result of spiritual things. This is a result of a principle I learned 21 years ago that “the spiritual world dominates the physical world.” Something else I've learned about the Lord which I shared in the sermon/teaching at our church in Montana, The Message and the Sign, is that God often sends a physical sign that contradicts the spiritual sign to reveal the hearts of people and to filter out those who have the Eye of the Eagle – which one are you going to believe? Once the Lord revealed this Principle of His to me I began to see it throughout the Scriptures.

Most new people who find our website do so because of the book Mysterious Secrets because the original first edition was published in 1991. Most people order it but we want more people to read The High Calling and The Prophetic Voice because we've found that very few Christians understand God's government and Five-fold ministry even though there are more people calling themselves by Five-fold titles today than ever before.

There has been much talk about unity in the Body and there should be but, unfortunately, what passes for attempts at unity are not biblical. I found out when the Lord gave me the message in 2005, Unity at What Price, that the only way to bring about true unity in the Body is through Five-fold ministry. If Christians don't understand Five-fold ministry and God's government then there can never be unity and without true unity the Church will never be the force of glory and power that the Lord intended. It's imperative that you learn about God's government and recognize the five offices and spiritual gifts He's established to operate His government.

Now, I want to share some things that may ruffle your feathers but I want you to look into the spirit realm with the Eye of the Eagle and see if you recognize a sign from God. To see this you will have to understand God's government and His Constitution. Those of you who are Americans reading this probably know that the true essence of America is the Constitution; it's the very foundation upon which our nation was founded. The President of the United States swears an oath of allegiance to "protect the Constitution of the United States." If he were to refuse this oath of office he would never be sworn in and assume the reins of the Presidency.

But what if he did not qualify for that office? What if like the governor of California he was not a natural born U.S. citizen? He would be unqualified to hold office according to the Constitution. And what if he was sworn in anyway because men and not God wanted him in office? What would happen to the Constitution? Would there be a constitutional crisis if these facts became public knowledge?

My brothers and sisters, there is much evidence to suggest that this very thing has just occurred. There are many affidavits from clergy and others as well as taped and video interviews with Mr. Obama's grandmother and uncle that he was born in Mombasa, Kenya. One clergyman says that he is a Muslim and not a Christian. We know he's not a true Christian because of his voting record on abortion. Anyone who really knows God knows how much He hates abortion – it's the national sin of America because we're supposed to be the "land of the free." We've written and spoken about it for years so most of you know already that the Lord told us in 2005 when He said that the "Democrats would sweep both houses" in the upcoming election and that after the next presidential election the country would "really go downhill fast" when I asked Him about George Bush the Lord told me, "His administration will not endure." This could have meant many things but the fact is that the Lord had a specific spiritual agenda for Bush that he didn't even work on. One of those items was the reversing of Roe v. Wade.

Now stay with me now and don't get mad if you voted for Obama (this is not something new but if you don't believe this and want some facts about his forged birth certificate, etc., go to the obamacrimes.com website for a start; a number of lawsuits have been filed including with the Supreme Court). But because this is not a political article, even if he were the most conservative Republican and not a natural born citizen I would feel the same way because we absolutely must obey and protect the Constitution. But I want to show you a parallel with the Government of God and perhaps why the Lord allowed this to happen. Many Christians and ministers are concerned with the agenda of the new President and yet my wife and I find it quite ironic that they are not equally concerned with the structure of God's government, who is in charge, who claims to be "leaders" and are they so qualified?

There are many similarities between this and what has occurred in churches (not the true Church). Many, in fact most, pastors and ministers are not called by God – therefore, they are unqualified to stand in the office they are assuming. Not only that but many continue in their Five-fold office that they've assumed and do not uphold and “protect” God's Constitution – the very foundation of His government – they try to take the church forward via the flesh and not the Spirit and they do not preach the Word but rather what is politically correct or the doctrines of men.

Each Five-fold office in the Church has a specific anointing and each is different. If you don't know the difference then you need to read The High Calling and The Prophetic Voice. It's the unique anointing that makes a person an apostle, prophet, pastor, teacher or evangelist and not their business card with the title, “Prophet,” etc. If they are not anointed or if they have a false anointing from the Dark Kingdom then they will be unable to “faithfully perform the duties of the office of apostle, prophet, pastor, teacher, evangelist ...” as a parallel with the Presidency.

A person must qualify themselves to be an elder (Five-fold minister) in the Church. Most full gospel churches and many denominational churches have a board of elders but they are usually not true elders, i.e., Five-fold ministers. Many denominations, e.g., the Southern Baptist (still the largest denomination) are governed by a board of deacons. Is that God's government as outlined in the New Testament? No! In God's true government, the deacons serve the elders (and the people) so that the elders can devote themselves to the Word and prayer.

In addition, the New Testament gives certain principles and qualifications for ministry (service). The first principle that the Lord showed me in December, 1989, in Akure, Nigeria, is that they “must be chosen.” Just as the original twelve and 70 were chosen by the Lord Himself and sent out. Jesus said, “Many are called but few are chosen.” I didn't see this revelation in the Word for many years after Jesus spoke it to me in 1989 in Africa but He called His disciples to Him and “chose” the twelve from them. The Spirit of the Lord said to me back then, “Many are called but few are chosen and the reason they're not chosen is because they're not willing to pay the price.”

There's a price to be paid for the anointing and to qualify yourself for a Five-fold office. You have to be trained, especially in the area of character. If a person does not exhibit the character and nature of God, especially the fruit of the Spirit (Gal. 5) and Jesus said, “By their fruit you shall know them” then you don't need to be able to discern the anointing that's not there. I think, if you're honest, you'll have to admit that most today are not true Five-fold ministers. Never have we seen more of the operation of a Balaam spirit than today. Most of today's "prophets" will give you personal prophecy or allow you into their "secret vault" if you pay them. Is this a Bible taught principle of God by which He governs? Did Jesus, Paul, Peter, John, etc., operate God's government this way?

I understand why most "ministries" today operate this way – because only 3 % of Christians tithe now there is little in the way of finances to support ministries – the purpose of the tithe is to support ministry; however, this does not excuse the lies, manipulation and emphasis on money that most ministries have today on their websites and at the bottom of every email they send out.

Because most Christians have never studied Church history they do not realize that in the early Church (from Paul's time through Constantine) the number one sign in the Church of a false minister was a preoccupation with money. Read Paul's epistles, there were those going around in his day calling themselves "super apostles" and they charged for their speaking engagements. Apparently from Paul's comments it was similar to today when people are judged by how "super" or important they are just like in the world by how much they charge.

I've learned over the years that when God speaks something to us as a true rhema that it's always much bigger than I can imagine. I can usually always find some examples of what He's trying to get across to me but then years later I always find there's much more.

The Lord said to me in 1989, "You go abroad and you see these things and you come back here and you see the same thing and you say, 'Why can't people see? Why can't they discern?' ..."

I first saw a great need for deliverance in Africa when the Lord told me to hold a deliverance service in the church every Friday night – after that I saw the same thing here in churches. I first saw the "false" church in Africa; it's here as well. I first saw Agents of the devil in churches in Africa and Asia; they're here as well and greatly on the increase. And I first learned in Africa that about 90-95% of the people in ministry were "false." They weren't called by God but were in it for other reasons such as to make a living or to serve the Dark Kingdom. In Nigeria you see 12 year old boys walking around carrying a big Bible as a means to make a living. But it's here in the West as well.

The Lord showed me a Scripture in Proverbs when we first moved to Libby, Montana, and went on the radio there. We picked up in the spirit the spirit of rebellion in that area among the churches and people. The Bible says, “When a land rebels there are many rulers.” I think this explains why God’s government is not being followed – a spirit of rebellion just like in Moses’ day – people want to choose their own leaders so they can go back to Egypt.

My brothers and sisters, the only way to have true unity and the move of the Glory of God manifesting through the Bride of Christ is to recognize and authenticate true Five-fold ministers, elders and deacons – to correctly establish God’s government according to the His Constitution, the Word and the Spirit. Anything else is an illegitimate government. We often hear in the media the expression, “We get the kind of government we deserve.” In the Church, we get the kind of government we allow.

I’d encourage you to study God’s Government and to also keep in mind that His government is not a democracy – it’s a theocracy. He’s not interested in us operating churches with illegitimate governments – He was very explicit with Moses when He said, “Be sure you build it according to the pattern I gave you.” Jesus Christ is the King of Kings and His government shall continue to increase as Isaiah says. We need to understand His government and how it operates so that we use the correct pattern and stop all this foolishness. God is waiting on us; will you do your part?
