Just Sayin'

After a period of days left to himself, a discourse began with a number of Job's friends who had come to 'console' him. Without passing early judgment, let's assume they meant well. We don't know their number, but three speak. Zophar and Job end the first round Monday.

Nearly as we can tell, Jesus meets with heavy criticism and opposition early on. The perfect man had escaped everyone's notice. He was no one special. How could he make these claims?

Evidently, they all had a lofty view of their own lives.

It is indeed hard to be humble. Pben.
