From the Desk of the Senior Pastor

Dear friends, first let me say how much I miss you. I sincerely do! I miss you throughout the week as so many of you drop by to say hello. I miss you on Wednesday evenings as we pray and study Scripture, and sometimes share life and laughter. I miss you at the front door of the church as we have a brief moment to get caught up. And I especially miss the blessing of worshipping with you on Sunday mornings! But, this will pass and we will be together again before you know it. And perhaps the silver lining is that we will appreciate each other all the more and be a closer family because of it.

Well, these truly are strange times. Sandy and I were watching TV last night and saw three women break into a fist fight over toilet paper. What's going on!? The intrinsic value of the item is next to nothing and yet these people lost their civility and humanity over... paper. Why? Maybe the item was just the 'straw that broke the camel's back.' Maybe all bad news and unknowns just became too much. Maybe it was fear. Certainly it was fear.

Last October Sandy and Curt Brown gave me a precious little book for pastor's appreciation month. It is entitled God's Promises for Your Every Need. I have reached for it many times over the last few weeks as I too experienced moments of fear. I needed to hear the God breathed words of the Scripture, because fear is insidious and sneaks into our lives unknown until it boils over in unexpected and unhealthy ways. And each time I did – fear fled as it must, and was replaced by His peace and confidence.

Far more important than my words, are His words, inspired by the Holy Spirit, for you and I today. So, wash your hands, socially distance, and take one Scripture verse a day...to keep fear away and receive the peace of our Lord.

- √ 2Ti 1:7 For God not given us a spirit of timidity, but of power and love and discipline.
- √ RO 8:15 For you have not received a spirit of slavery leading to fear again, but you have received a spirit of adoption as sons by which we cry out, "Abba! Father!"
- √ P S 91:1 He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High will abide in the shadow of the Almighty.
- √ PR 3:25 Do not be afraid of sudden fear nor of the onslaught of the wicked when it comes; PR 3:26 For the LORD will be your confidence And will keep your foot from being caught.
- √ I SA 54:14 "In righteousness you will be established; You will be far from oppression, for you will not fear; And from terror, for it will not come near you.
- √ PS 56:11 In God I have put my trust, I shall not be afraid. What can man do to me?
- √ JN 14:27 "Peace I leave with you; My peace I give to you; not as the world gives do I give to you. Do not let your heart be troubled, nor let it be fearful.

Together May We Shine!

FAMILY, YOUTH AND CHILDREN'S CORNER

These last three weeks have no doubt been some of the strangest of our lives. Social distancing, schools closed, health concerns, and many other unknowns have made this very difficult. And the people and church we usually run to for comfort are at least physically unavailable, making it all the harder.

Simultaneously our brother, friend, and pastor, Rich resigned for personal reasons. None of this was expected or desired by anyone in the church. With all that has gone on we haven't had the time to process his departure. It will likely take some time, and that's OK.

As I have thought about Rich's departure, there are some things that I absolutely know. First, I have no doubt that God has a wonderful plan for Rich and His family. Transitions are sometimes difficult but I am confident that God will use Rich's many gifts, when the time is right, to be a blessing to His people. As the Woods make this transition, we surely can pray for their family that God will bless and provide and comfort. I am also reminded of a song by Michael W. Smith entitled Friends. One verse says, "And friends are friends forever, if the Lord's the Lord of them."

There is no doubt this has been an especially challenging time for the youth of JHBC. But just as surely as God has a good plan for the Wood family, He has a wonderful plan for our youth and church. We can have great confidence in this, take comfort, and even anticipate with excitement the plans that our God has for us!

In the meantime, we have had some wonderful, prayerful and productive meetings with the Youth Committee and the Children's Committee to go over plans for upcoming activities. Now, we don't know exactly when we are going to be able to start meeting again. But, let me give a few of the highlights of some of these meetings.

YOUTH!

- ✓ Rachel and Tara will continue to meet with the Youth on Wednesday evenings. Duran Johnson has agreed to lead a Bible study for a few weeks after we get back together.
 - ✓ We have started looking for a youth intern for over the summer.

Heraclitus once said, "The Only Thing That Is Constant Is Change." Well, we certainly are in a period of change, which can be challenging. But one thing that makes change manageable is the One who does not change; our Lord and our God. He promised He would be with us, never leave us, steady us when we are unsteady, and reveal His good plan for our lives. His constant love, and our unity with one another, will enable us to shine!

In His Love,
Pastor Cal

Worship Notes from Scott

In recent days during my personal devotional time, I have been making my way through the book of Matthew. I just finished reading chapter 13, which includes the well-known passage of the Parable of the Sower. How many times have I read this? Perhaps dozens. How many sermons have I heard preached from this passage? Likely a handful or two. Is there more to be gained from reading it again? Most definitely.

One of the distinct benefits and purposes of the Spirit of God is that as you read His Word, the Spirit mysteriously draws your mind to certain words, meanings, and interpretations of the passage that uniquely apply to you (and me). That's always been an amazement to me, how multiple people can read the same passage, the same story, yet come away with an application unique and distinct to each of them, yet always fully true and consistent with the message and person of God.

I have to admit, my understanding of this passage this morning absolutely is shaped by my recent and ongoing battle with a certain portion of my yard that I have goals of developing into a luscious, beautiful sea of the greenest grass ever to be cultivated on planet earth. And that's saying something for a guy who grew up in Iowa, the home of some of the richest, most fertile soil in the world.

The background. My yard is largely surrounded by mature trees, which obviously shaped the decision of the previous owners of the property to simply either just let the leaves of the trees provide the ground cover, or to cover every bit of the sandy soil with mulch. My plan has been that this spring I would bring in a truckload of good topsoil to level everything out, and in the few areas that get an acceptable amount of sun to either seed, or likely sod it with a type of grass that can tolerate a good bit of shade. The struggle in this is that in the meantime, there are some nasty weeds that continue to make themselves at home there. I have attempted to remove them both my chemical means and sheer hard work with a shovel and sweat. But, unsurprisingly, they have returned again as the weather is getting nicer and the time for my project is drawing nearer.

That draws me to Matthew 13. A short synopsis. The parable identifies four types of soil and the resulting success of the sower in each of these areas. First, there was the path, a hard-packed area where the seeds were quickly snatched up by the birds before they had a chance to grow. Second, the shallow, rocky soil provided no protection from the hot sun, and the young plants were quickly scorched and withered away. Thirdly, some seeds fell among thorns, and as they grew, they were choked out and produced nothing. And lastly were the seeds that fell on fertile soil, and they thrived and produced a rich crop.

Jesus's explanation makes it clear that the seed was not different in each of these situations, but it was the condition of the soil, or perhaps the heart, that determined whether the gospel was able to take root and flourish. But I have wondered, what if the soil (heart), dense from years of neglect, was tilled, and what if the rocks of hard-heartedness and criticism were removed from the rocky area, allowing the seed's roots to sink deep into the soil. And what if the weedy temptations and worldly influences were removed and instead replaced by godly encouragement? What if all these areas were cultivated by the practice of joyful worship and Christian fellowship and spiritual growth? Then even what had been thought to be unfertile, unlikely, and unreasonable places to expect to see return, could be transformed into desirable and rewarding areas of fruit-bearing growth.

I am not giving up on my weed-ridden soil. I will invest time, energy, and yes, even money in hopes of turning it into something that is capable of sustained growth. I will do the same for my own heart, also investing time, energy, and yes, even money to make sure it is capable of reproducing the seed of the gospel, and spreading it wherever I go. Will you join me in doing the same?

The food drive is rescheduled to later this year.

Because of COVID-19, it is not possible to move forward with the Food Roundup in April. We will communicate with you as soon as we have more details. This has been a difficult decision because so many of you have expressed your excitement at helping our boys and girls, many who have not been able to count on eating regularly until arriving at BCH

Just because we are rescheduling doesn't mean you can't help. In fact, because the Food Roundup is postponed, we need your immediate help in this time of crisis!

Food supplies at all BCH locations will run low because the Food Roundup is postponed.

Because it has been almost a year since the previous food drive, our food, perishable and nonperishable, will be in short supply. We count on April's Food Roundup to refill our shelves in our children's cottages and food pantries. And because we depend on the food drive, our budget is not prepared to purchase the food that will be needed to feed our children and special needs adults throughout the next few months. As you can see, you are desperately needed!

How your church can ensure our food and funding do not run out:

1. Pray: Ask God to lead you and others to help with the need. He is able!
2. Give by check or online: This is the most essential way your church can help. Your financial offering will allow us to purchase the food and supplies that are most-needed throughout our statewide ministries.

Mail a check to Baptist Children's Homes, PO Box 338, Thomasville, NC 27361

or give online at www.bchfamily.org/givenow

3. Send gift cards: Gift cards, especially to stores like Walmart and Food Lion, will help us purchase the most-needed food and supplies.
4. Deliver essential food & supplies: Call the BCH location nearest you (phone numbers below) to find out their specific needs. A representative will instruct you with the safest way to deliver the supplies.

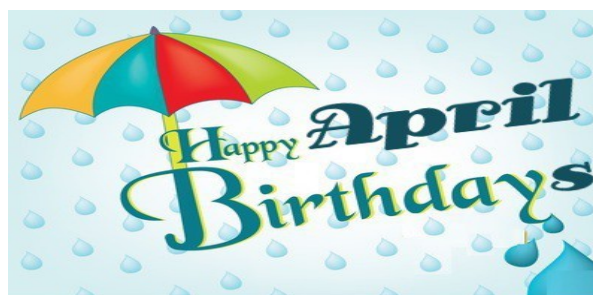

Have you been out shopping for that great winter "super sale item" buy that you just can't live without. Guess what, NOW is the time to shop for and buy a pair or two of those good, sturdy shoes for the Powell River Shoe Fair.

The pair of shoes that you purchase this month could be the only pair that these children and/or adults own.

News from J. Glenn Edwards Elementary School

The books in the vending machine, which range in reading levels from kindergarten to fifth grade are available for FREE. The books are used and mostly donated by us Jonesboro Height Baptist Church. We have been giving books to the school for a while. Joy Berryman and I started collecting books for reading projects at JGE. "Literacy is a major goal and focus area for JGE. They are hoping the new vending machine will help spark some enthusiasm for reading." With permission from their teacher, students simply key in the code for the book they want. It drops down in the normal vending process. The books in the vending machine are replenished on a regular basis. The students can have the books, return the books...there are no rules, except READ. Please continue to bring your used books to the Mission Depo - JGE boxes (under the steps in the educational building). Thank you for caring, sharing and loving to see our children READING.
