From the Desk of the Senior Pastor

"The Southern Baptist Convention is at a 70 year low with regard to the number of baptisms performed last year. What has happened to the church?" Johnny Hunt, former president, Southern Baptist Convention.

I did something kind of mean last week during Vacation Bible School for Adults and I guess I need to confess. After we did our study on the Apostle Peter, and his life as a 'fisher of men,' it seemed a good time to talk about our 'Who's Your One?' initiative. I said, 'Since we have been talking about this for three months, I'm going to walk around McDowell Hall and ask each of you, 'Who's your one?' So I took the microphone in hand and headed toward the attendees.

Suffice it to say it got very quiet and eyes got very big. Now, I really never had any intention of pointing the microphone at any one person and putting them on the spot. But I did want to make the point; 'Who's Your One?' isn't just a good idea to talk about – we must move from concept to practice. In fact my biggest fear about 'Who's Your One' is that we all agree that it's a good thing to talk about it and never moves beyond that.

In truth, as I moved with microphone in hand toward the attendees, I received the response I anticipated; the deer in the headlights look. I certainly do not say that in a flippant or disrespectful way but rather to make a point, which is...

Why do we get so uncomfortable talking about sharing our faith?

What is so uncomfortable about your pastor, brother and friend asking you, 'Who's Your One?' Shouldn't it be such a central and natural part of our lives as disciple makers that we could very comfortably answer, 'I'm still praying for the one God will lead me to. So, I'm praying but I'm also watching and looking for opportunities!' Excellent! I asked one of the women of the church, 'Who's Your One?' She responded, 'I know who it is, but it's going to be tough. So, I'm praying for opportunities.' Tremendous! Great response!

Last Sunday night, Johnny Hunt asked us the question; "What has happened to the church?" What happened to a church on fire for Jesus? What happened to a church with a passion to share the Gospel with the lost? But Johnny also cast a tremendous vision for the future. He said that if 1% of current Southern Baptists respond to 'Who's Your One?' then we can anticipate more people being baptized in 2020 than in all of the last 70 years!

So what if we moved from 'Who's Your One?' concept to a natural and comfortable practice? What tremendous changes we WILL SEE in our church and community!

Together we can...so one last question to consider; who's YOUR one?

Shine!
Pastor Cal

ACCORDING TO RW...

Next month is Clergy Appreciation Month, and while I don't want to sound self-serving in writing this article, I've always believed it was important to appreciate ministers even before I became one. Before I went into ministry full-time, I got a glimpse into the ups and downs of how ministers are appreciated by watching how my parents' church treated their pastor. There were a lot of good things they did for him and his family, however, I remember one business meeting when there was an argument over the process and cost of replacing the heating system in the parsonage. I could see the look of dejection on his face while people nit-picked every detail of the process until one woman finally stood up and said, "It's the middle of the winter. Our pastor and his family are cold. Fix this." At that point, all the complaining stopped and the heating system was fixed.

As a minister, I can tell you that we don't always help ourselves. I read a quote the other day that says that "ministers are the world's worst at self-care." Several of my minister-friends and I have had conversations about this. Ministry can take a toll on us physically, but more often, it takes a toll on us mentally and emotionally. From experience, I can tell you that is true. I've had a couple of times in my ministry where I have approached burnout and have had to do some serious self-reflection over the past few months about my own self-care. I've been trying to eat healthier and work out more, but I've also have been trying to focus on maintaining a better balance between work and family life. I still have quite a way to go, but it's something that needs to be done for the sake of my own health and well-being along with my family.

Speaking of family, I think Clergy Appreciation Month should be expanded to Clergy-Family Appreciation, because ministry does take a toll of families as well. This summer, I spent an entire week away on a mission trip and a lot of evenings away from home. There were times Megan kept asking why I had to go back to church after dinner or why I had to go make a hospital visit. I'm thankful for Beth's support because there were times where we had to sit down and figure out schedules and childcare among other things (which I'm sure you all have done as well with your jobs).

Some of you have kept up with me and my health journey over the past couple of years, and I'm thankful for your understanding and appreciation as I strive for self-care and balance because I want to be the best minister I can be to all of you. Also, I believe that our bodies are the temple of the Holy Spirit, and we should encourage one another to maintain them. So, let us encourage each other, appreciate each other, and take care of one another so that we can continue to be on mission throughout Sanford and the world.

Blessings,
Rich

THANK YOU NOTES

Dear JHBC Church Family,

Hank you for selecting me as a recipient of the Sam and Sandra Wornom Endowment Trust Scholarship. I greatly appreciate this support as it will help as I continue my education. Thank you for all of your love and guidance. Please keep me in your thoughts and prayers as I follow God's plan for me.

*Love,
Claire Gilchrist*

To Jonesboro Heights Baptist Church,

On behalf of the Breadbasket Board of Directors, I would like to express our thanks to JHBC for your generous contribution to help feed the hungry in Lee County.

Worship Notes from Scott

Taking Higher Heights to a New High!

Later this month, we will be kicking off what I believe will be a most exciting year for Higher Heights. The Higher Heights Coordinating Team (HHCT) has put together an awesome calendar in an effort to fulfill their stated mission:

"To develop a fulfilling senior adult ministry to honor God by providing opportunities for spiritual and personal growth, fellowship, and service"

The current members of the HHCT are: Ann Alford, Diane Smith, Freda Lowe, Avron Upchurch, Barry Cashion, and John Hall. They are a joy to work with, and take their responsibility seriously. Admittedly, that's not hard, because we have so much fun doing it!

Higher Heights meets in the McDowell Fellowship Hall on the fourth Wednesday of the month at 11 AM, September through June. So, our first meeting will be on Sept. 25th.

Did you know we have a NASA Ambassador attending our church? Dan Combs will be making a presentation about NASA to the group that first meeting. I know you will find it very interesting. As always, we will have some great community-building activities, like singing, an ice-breaker, and a devotion (this time, led by Mary Upchurch). Of course, we will have a tasty lunch to follow right at noon.

In months to follow, we will have guest speakers like Rev. Don Gilbert from Bayleaf Baptist Church in Raleigh, a missionary guest, Andrew Ricabal from Lee Christian School, Ruth Hoyt a Master Gardener, the Jubilee Choir from the Sandy Creek Baptist Association, and others. We will have a great Christmas Luncheon in December, and end the year with a patriotic Summer Celebration in June.

We've also upped our game in regards to giving you great opportunities to do things together. Like, going to the NC Zoo in Asheboro on October 8, the Caraway Fall Festival (October 14-17), Southern Supreme in November, Operation Christmas Child in December, the Cookie Caravan in February, WRAL Gardens & Farmer's Market in April, and the Ft. Caswell Coastal Retreat in May.

I know what you're thinking, "I can't believe it! This is too much! I can't wait! Where do I sign up?!". Information about all of these things will be made available to you at our regular Higher Heights meetings, every 4th Wednesday of the month (except for November, it will be on the 20th due to Thanksgiving), as well as on the Family Ministry Bulletin Board in the main church hallway.

So, get ready. Talk to all your friends and invite them to come with you, particularly those who may not have a church home. This would be a great opportunity to put your "Who's Your One" into practice, and so simple to do. Just say, "We are having a NASA Ambassador come talk to our Higher Heights group at church on Wednesday, September 25. Would you come with me? It starts at 11 AM and includes a lunch!"

Whether you're in your 50's, 60's, 80's, or whatever, you are welcome and encouraged to come. We have a great time, and would love to see you there!

Scott

WE NEED YOUR HELP

The Personnel Committee would like to request any information for the weekly bulletin to be submitted to Marva Lee no later than noon on Wednesday for the following Sunday.

Articles and reports for the monthly Announcer should be submitted no later than the 15th of each month.

Submitting information timely will allow staff to prepare layouts, print and distribute and/or mail so the church family may receive information in a timely manner.

Any late articles or announcements will be held and considered for placement in the next scheduled bulletin or Announcer.

Deacon's Corner

Submitted by Tony Rebello

John Hall, chairman, called the meeting to order. New deacons were welcomed into the fellowship: Belinda Bond, Lynwood Jones, Roy Lowe, Tommy Matthews, and Ron Rouse. Current deacons reported Family Ministry contacts and voiced prayer concerns.

Mary Upchurch led the devotion, using scripture from Romans 10:13: "Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved"; and Romans 10: 9-10: "That if you confess with your mouth, 'Jesus is Lord,' and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For it is with your heart that you believe and are justified, and it is with your mouth that you confess and are saved."

The topic was "Who's Your One?" Mary told about the "Who's Your One?" conference the previous Sunday night at Temple Baptist Church in Fayetteville, with musician Charles Billingsly and Pastor Johnny Hunt, who brought a most inspiring message based on the calling of the first five disciples, as found in John 1. Pastor Johnny said that he has been told that family members are the hardest to reach for Christ. He disputes that, "Because," he says, "who loves your family members more than you?" He challenged us to pray for and witness to our family members, friends, and neighbors. Mary ended the devotion with prayer.

Pastor Cal gave a brief report of his ministry activities and a more detailed written report for the month of July. He also spoke of upcoming events, including JHBC's 150th Anniversary Celebration.

For Old Business, it was reported that the transfer of the annex building to Mr. Sublett has been canceled due to his health. The Ad Hoc Committee will look for other solutions. If anyone has suggestions, please contact one of the members: Jamie Bowen, Sam Wornom, Tommy Matthews, and Wanda Howard.

For New Business, it was noted that our attendance has been off the past couple of months, and so has our giving. Let's please pray about our financial situation and what the Lord would have us do about it. We have a proposed budget deficit of ($40,774.07) through July, with one month left in the church year. Current expenses for August total $36,600.76. The credit line/property debt for the former Covington property totals $178,375.26.

In closing, John thanked the deacons who are rotating off for their dedication and hard work here at JHBC. They are Jamie Bowen, Richard Sistrunk, Mary Upchurch, Johnny Whiteside, and Sam Wornom.

Ramona Bowling dismissed us with prayer.

THANK YOU NOTE

A "Thank You" to each of you for the successful annual J. Glenn Edwards Elementary Kick-Off Breakfast for the new school year 2019-2020, Thursday August 15th. From Survival Kits Assemblers, McDowell Hall Decorators, Registration Table, Servers of Food and Drink. Thankful for the Church Staff for your attendance and leadership. Thankful for Marva Lee. As she is always very supportive with the many projects for Mission & Outreach throughout the year.

Thankful for the monetary gift from Eddie Berryman to Dr. Kelly to assist children in need. Thankful for the three janitors recognized for their labor of love of the school. A special "Thank You" to Jimmie Haire for his outstanding 15 minutes of pure entertainment about Mr. J. Glenn Edwards, history of Lee County and his love of Sanford. School supplies are being collected until school starts. It's never too late to receive your school supplies. The school supplies will be delivered at the end of the August.

If you would like to assist in a project for J. Glenn Edwards, please let me know. We have been in partnership with the school since 2010.

THANK YOU NOTES

Jonesboro Heights Church,

I just don't know where to start. These last few months was really hard, dealing with the situation we was dealt. But with you all's love, kindness, prayers, blessings, and support, we made it through our storm. At times I felt lik giving up. But ya'll prayrs kept me fighting. Bradley Sr. is doing better and going through rehab. Thanks for all who has helped Brayrka get ready for college and the gifts given. I didn't know how I was going to get her stuff. But while I was worrying God already worked it out. Because of you all we had brighter and sunny days. Thank you all again and may God continue to pour down love and blessings into your lives and homes.

*Love always,
