

Mother Nature and Father Time—Paganism prevails and the whole world worships the created; but why shouldn't people love God and the world He made?

They exchanged the truth about God for a lie, and worshiped and served created things rather than the Creator—who is forever praised. Amen. Romans 1:25 NIV

Friday Night Special #9

Man is a religious being, and science cannot stand it that we hold so tightly to our belief systems. Yet, everyone has a belief system including those believing only in science. If you consider we are created beings, it makes sense mankind seek something or someone to worship. Since the forty largest world religions have many fragments still splintering from their core, we should expect to find hundreds of religions now cohabitating on our planet, and we do.

Religion is man's most feeble attempt to worship a very big God and is, therefore, prone to harm others through its zealous desire to serve God. It is small wonder every man has confidence in his own religion and tolerance for no other. With so many religions and so many men we cannot all be right; however, surely we must consider that we may all be wrong.

I suggest there are only two religions in the world—truth and non truth. I have also observed that both truth and non truth can be found in any house of worship. Mankind's notions regarding truth rest upon the traditions of men making a man righteous only in his own mind. Traditions by their very nature err, yet become sacred within our temples and institutions for learning. These traditions are further supported by our science labs and observatories where we see only what we perceive.

Religion is like water and will quickly find its lowest point and take us to it; but the vehicle that elevates mankind is special relativity. The true standard of relativity is measured by man's relationship with His Creator. In seeking a relationship with God, the two of you become related. By faith you have become His child and because He is now relative to you, so are those in the world.

The truth that all men are equally created in the image of God becomes obvious when you see your fellow man through the eyes of the One that loves us all. There is a benevolent presence in our midst that inspires human beings with a dominant self-serving purpose to willingly become protectors of others.

When we look into the eyes of another, surpassing nations and notions, we recognize our mutual Father and know we are indeed our brother's keeper. The faith in our commitment to the family of man is driven by a relationship with a supreme, benevolent being known by many as God. When your love for others rivals your love for yourself, you are in a relationship with this Divine Being.

When you experience the assurance that God is real, this knowledge becomes relative in your life. Passing this truth to others becomes paramount. If you pass your knowing of the Creator by introducing others to the Great One, you have done well. However, if you pass this knowledge less the relationship to your children and others, it is void of the power of God.

Your faith is in the Father, but their faith will be in the rules and regulations. It will become their own works, void of relativity, that will drive their need to proselytize. The hole that is inside of them that only God can fill will still be there. They will in a frenzy force their fellowman to fall down in faith that is not relative. Like water their personal religion will quickly find its lowest point and drown their souls without washing away their sins.

Without the presence of the Benevolent One, there will be no benevolence among men. The existence of benevolent men makes the presence of the Benevolent One obvious. The existence of so much evil in our world is also proof positive of the presence of the evil one. This evil one wants all men to be religious. He can do much harm through man's religion less a relative relationship resulting in ruination.

The evil one tempts you to worship the beautiful things of creation including himself. Doing so will destroy mankind and his offspring—this is his hope. He considers you and yours the blight upon an other-wise unmarred creation. He wants to rid the world of the plague he considers humanity to be.

The Benevolent One and the evil one have been battling over the souls of men since the very beginning. In the end, the Creator of all things will destroy everything that causes harm. All things created by even well intentioned humanity will cease to exist. Many people will be saved, but our religions will not be spared.

God considers us and our children of great value and the only redeemable thing on the planet. He is a Creator and can recreate all things ex nihilo. The evil one, as a created being himself, cannot do this.

God will replace His current creation with a new one. However, He will not replace a lost child with another. Each person is uniquely special to the Father and all lost souls will be properly grieved over by the One that loves us more than any other.

Worshipping the created whether it be the sun, the stars, the evil one, traditions of men or even your children as the works of your own hands defines a religion and is void of any promised return. Worship of the Creator God declares to the entire cosmos that you are relative and guarantees a return.

And if I go and make ready a place for you, I will return and take you to be with me, that where I am you also may be. John 14:3 WNT

The evil one has taken captive many innocents. Many are being held captive in various ways by other humans. Some in cages, some by circumstance and many by their own misguided reverence for their captors. They are misused and abused in hurtful and hideous ways. The irony is that their captors are also in captivity and most do not even know it.

*Can plunder be taken from warriors, or captives be rescued from the fierce?
But this is what the Lord says;
Yes, captives will be taken from warriors,
and plunder retrieved from the fierce;
I will content with those who contend with you, and your children I will save. Isaiah 49:24-25 NIV*

In the garden, God gave the man and the woman the right of dominion over the earth. Lucifer duped them out of their right to reign claiming to be the rightful prince of their world. His claim remains as long as man's domain remains and people of this planet subject themselves to the evil one. Someday, God's lease agreement with mankind will end and the throne will be taken by the one with the right to rule.

*I will make your oppressors eat their own flesh;
they will be drunk on their own blood, as with wine.
Then all mankind will know that I, the LORD, am your Savior, your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob." Isaiah 49:26 NIV*

Every generation has had those with oppressive spirits embracing evil. They do not want righteousness to rule because when it does, these evil ones serving Lucifer will be held accountable. They have joined him in his rebellion against God. They hate God and would kill Him if they could—oh yeah, "We killed God." Yet, He lives!!

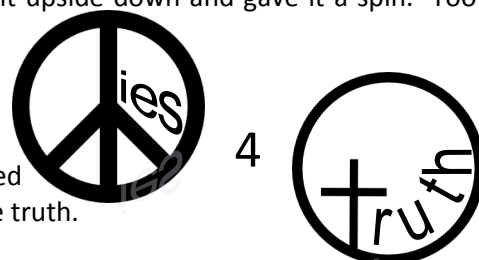

In the 1960's we gave this God, Jesus Christ of Nazareth a makeover. We gave him a new image and a different purpose and called Him Jesus Christ Superstar. We misquoted and deliberately misunderstood His mission saying that by His command we would love every body and everybody's everybody. We were going to have a love fest—a sexual revolution!

We rebelled against all things especially the God of our fathers. We beat our swords into plows to war no more and sowed our seeds of discord everywhere. As children of the church we tanked up on flower power then declared God as powerless and impotent as the old men perched on pews; and the one preaching in the pulpit, a mere puppet.

The body of Christ slain to cover us was a waste because we flaunted our nakedness. We did not need a righteous garment because we made our own tie-dyed multicolored robes. If God would not give us a vision, we would have drug induced hallucinations instead.

We took the cross, the most sacred symbol of our savior, already a sign of peace, and made it an act of rebellion. Wanting evidential proof of our defiance we first turned it inside out, flipped it upside down and gave it a spin. Too young, too dumb to realize that it is the work of the devil to turn the truth into a distorted mirror image of the truth. Peace out, you all!

What did we get for all our free love? We got as high as the cost, because we only made a down payment. While stoned, we tied rocks around the necks of our offspring. Apparently, that smart bunch of hippies were less informed than the outdated generation before them. Most of us bought lies and many died leaving our children and grandchildren with a balloon installment currently due costing more than they think we agreed to.

www.operationrescue.org/about-abortion/abortions-in-america/

Half of all US pregnancies are unintended—what?! With all the birth control options we have available in our country and 1 out of every 2 pregnancies are oops! Why? Well, maybe, it's the pot load of money we spend distributing free condoms during our sex education classes. I mean, if you give out free super bowl tickets, most folks are going to assume you want them to attend and will. That doesn't mean they're going to wear the t-shirt and support the team that bought the tickets.

Of those unintended pregnancies, we kill 1.21 million babies because of inconvenience on the part of the state and the parent. Less than 1% of all abortions take place because of rape and/or incest. Of the parents that abort their children, 69% profess to be Christian. Really? How dare God's people of today claim to be different than the Israelites of old. The Bible says they sacrificed their children to Ba'al? Our hands are also crimson with the blood of our own.

www.fosterclub.com/article/foster-care-statistics

Of the children we let live, over one half million are in foster care. If the current trend continues, by 2020 more than 10.5 million children will spend time in foster care. About 25% of children aging out of foster care will become homeless. Many foster families close the door once the check stops. Young adults are left to fend for themselves often without an education, workforce skills, and transportation to a job they may never get. No job means no food, clothing and shelter. Our children and our children's children suffer because we lack natural affection.

But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days. People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, ³ without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God—having a form of godliness but denying its power. Have nothing to do with such people. They are the kind who worm their way into homes and gain control over gullible women, who are loaded down with sins and are swayed by all kinds of evil desires, always learning but never able to come to a knowledge of the truth. 2 Timothy 3:1-7 NIV

www.polarisproject.org/human-trafficking/overview/human-trafficking-trends

Human trafficking comes in many forms but one of its wretched ways is sex trafficking. Formerly, sex trafficking included the misuse of women and girls. Today's trend includes male children. The vast majority of children sold into sex trafficking are between the ages of 12 to 14, but the average age is becoming significantly younger and includes even infants.

Sex trade has replaced or supplemented the drug trade. Children and women are less consumable than drugs and can be used over and over to support their slave masters. Illicit sex with the young and innocent has become a preferred vice for many. Certainly, it is a preferred market since sex trade is more profitable and less risky than drug trade.

The US spends 300% more policing the drug trade than human trade. Penalties for drug trafficking are much more severe than sex trafficking. If an arrest is made during a sex trafficking encounter, it is rarely traffickers and/or "Johns" that are arrested but the young girls bailed out and beaten by their pimps for being stupid.

The reason is complicated and multi-faceted; however, I suspect the primary reason behind all the other excuses is that sex-trafficking is a crime against women and children. Men are rarely motivated to defend women and children of another man. Today's man is much less chivalrous even toward his own wife, sons and daughter.

So many American fathers have sacrificed their families at the altar of self-interest and left their post as providers and defenders. Other American men are not willing and able to pick up the slack. In fact, it is the fathers of America that have become the consumers of the sex trade; the very reason for its successful endeavor. Sadly, sometimes it is their own daughters they abuse and exploit for their own sadistic pleasure then afterwards with others for profit.

Sexually transmitted diseases (STD) in America have become so prevalent in our society that controlling them consumes much of the resources of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). We only track trends regarding gonorrhea, chlamydia and syphilis, but there are many other serious STDs.

The trends are so alarming that women under the age of 25, pregnant women of any age and men having sex with men should diligently test annually for many STDs including syphilis, chlamydia, gonorrhea, and HIV. Twenty million new cases of reported STDs occur every year.

Ten million are under the age of 24; many having the fresh, sweet face of the very young. Sexually transmitted diseases cost our country $16 billion per year! The total cost is beyond monetary, especially to women. Many face infertility from STDs and life long illnesses that ravage their bodies in ways science has yet to identify.

Syphilis has increased by 134% among men having sex with men. Young men having sex with men, including bisexual males, accounts for 3 out of every 4 new syphilis cases. The rate of new syphilis cases parallels that of new HIV cases among the same population, and Syphilis is not responding to traditional treatment. Yet, in our sex education classes young men are consistently encouraged to explore any bi-curious tendencies. Who is sounding the alarm? Full transparency is the responsibility of sex education; yet, is anyone giving young men the full cost of their curiosity?

The following information comes from:

www.guttmacher.org/pubs/FB-Teen-Sex-Ed.html

www.heritage.org/research/reports/2004/01/government-spends-12-on-safe-sex-and-contraceptives-for-every-1-spent-on-abstinence

www.greatschools.org/parenting/sex-education/256-the-birds-and-the-bees-whats-the-status-of-sex-ed.gs

The US spends abundantly more on sex education than any other nation in the world. However, US teens have the highest pregnancy rate of the developed world. More than twice that of Canada and Sweden. US teens are more likely to have shorter and less consistent sexual relationships than their peers in our western world. They are less likely to use contraceptives. What!? Compared to the rest of the western world, our rates of STDs are exorbitantly high.

Clearly, we need to consider what is being taught in our sex education classes! What is on the local, state and national agenda regarding sexuality among our young? What are our clear goals? Surely we would agree that we are not anywhere near where we profess we want to be protecting our young.

Proponents of comprehensive sex education classes relentlessly point out the shortfall of schools that promote abstinence as a viable option for control of unwanted pregnancies and STDs. For every $1 spent on abstinence programs $12 of federal and state monies will be spent on comprehensive classes. We are looking for a scapegoat, but clearly, the failure of sex education cannot be placed fully and solely on programs teaching abstinence.

Perhaps we should seriously and immediately shift some of the funds spent on comprehensive sex education to abstinence. Or better still, apply all that sex education money teaching our kids to read so articles declaring the dangers regarding their loose lifestyles will have meaning. Perhaps even better still, apply that sex education money to our national debt and let parents teach their children morality with accountability—they can't do worse! After all, loving parents are the ones with a clear vested interest in keeping their children disease and pregnant free.

Is it possible that our sex education classes are just a ruse for giving our young children a green light regarding human sexuality. If so, then our current sex education classes represent the most successful education program to date.

Perhaps, we want our children primed to join the adult world of degraded men and women disregarding Biblical parameters in pursuit of their own perversions. If so, then we must continue on in this federally funded and state supported manner regarding the futures of our children. However, be ready to reap a whirlwind of degradation, disrespect, disease and death. Welcome to the age of Aquarius.

The sexual revolution of the sixties was joined by the young of the entire generation, but lead by protestant

Christian teens rebelling against the God of their fathers. Aquarius was depicted as a nurturing woman suffering from bearing children refusing to tend the garden.

Mother Nature is nothing new. She is a concept as old as the hills. She is a promiscuous yet perpetual virgin said to have a divine message for every generation upon the earth. If it feels good, then do it! Our treatment of Mother Earth being the exception. We must preserve and protect her from the industrial revolution of our fathers.

There is a measure of truth in their ideology. Of course, Adam and Eve were told to tend the garden, but we are not in the garden at this time. However, we must preserve and protect the natural resources of the earth, but we cannot restore a dying planet. God can, and has promised to renew the heavens and the earth.

Until then, know that the earth is turning into a global desert. The dry, barren places of the planet were not always there, but are encroaching upon the habitats of man and beasts. The thought is that Mother Nature will water the earth turning it into a garden once again. Not true, but Father God can and will.

We also perceive by the pouring out of her sweet natural spirit mankind will be released from social stigmas that keep us from doing what we please whenever we want with whomever we choose. Of course, Father Time is urging us to rush to action before opportunity is lost. What does Father God say? Wait on the LORD: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, on the LORD. Psalm 27:14 KJV The things we postpone do not cause as much regret as the things we do in haste.

Mother Nature urges us to do things that feel natural to us but she lacks natural affection. That is because Mother Nature is a figment of men's imaginations spawned by their dance with the devil. Search the Internet for more information on the following sex crimes against children and you will see the veiled face of Mother Nature.

A Missouri woman brings her four month old baby to a known pedophile's home so he can have sex with the baby in the presence of the mom. Of course, the baby dies but not before suffering hideous, tortuous abuse.

Another Missouri mom met a college professor online and to draw him into a sexual encounter with her, she offers her five month old baby girl. He prefers boys, but hey, love the one you're with, right! Of course, this baby also dies in a manner that rips her small body apart after rearranging her internal organs.

An Ohio man has sex with a six month old female. In Ohio you must show intent to kill in order to receive the death penalty. His plea for mercy declares that he did not intend to kill the baby, just have sex with her. Really?! And finally, A Georgia mom sells her 5 and 6 year old daughters to a known pedophile for $30,000!

Aids is running rampant in Africa. Commonly, African men believe in Mother Nature and have given her various names of local fertility goddesses. She promises a cure for aids which includes having sex with a virgin. To increase the potency of this nonexistent cure men are seeking the youngest female they can find. Apparently, even Oprah is up in arms about this.

We should all be up in arms lifting them toward Heaven as we beg for mercy regarding our apathy toward innocent ones everywhere. Those of us nonparticipants failing to intervene also have blood on our hands.

In the sixties, Satan poured his spirit of malcontent upon young adults of Christian believers within our nation. God counteracted by pouring His spirit upon the sons and daughters of Abraham. Silently but steadily the Jews for Jesus movement rocked the American Christian and Jewish world. When the children of the church remade Jesus to fit their personal profile, sons and daughters of orthodox Jews recognized the deception. They may not want the Jesus of their forefathers, but some recognized the deception of the devil this time.

Jesus Christ of Nazareth was known as heretical, but these Jewish sons and daughters realized Jesus Christ Superstar was a lie about an otherwise good Jewish boy. If Jesus had been this defiled their forefathers would have declared it. The more degraded this generation of Americans describe Jesus Christ Superstar, the more curious the sons and daughters of American Orthodox Jews became regarding Jesus Christ of Nazareth.

They began to study the New Testament scriptures in secret. They were intrigued as they discovered the aligning events of the crucifixion of Jesus with the Passover season. When our children read that Jesus is the first fruits of the dead, they do not even know what that means. 1 Corinthians 15 However, Jewish sons and daughters knowing much about first fruits, were moved by the spirit of God to know that Jesus Christ, rejected by the earthly temple was well received in Heaven. John 20:17

This movement began in America but spread to many countries. These young men and women continue to give up much more than members of American churches can even imagine. Yet, we continue to benefit greatly because of their convictions. By invitation, they speak in Protestant churches regarding Moses. As a result, our self-professed New Testament churches begin to understand the following words of Jesus. "You study the Scriptures diligently because you think that in them you have eternal life. These are the very Scriptures that testify about me," John 5:39 NIV Jesus spoke regarding the Old Testament.

Jerusalem is rich in spirit. Many Christian believers go there and return forever changed. They profess the Spirit of God is so rich in Israel that you can feel His presence as you walk the same streets the patriarchs, prophets and Jesus walked. I have never been there, but I am certain their witness is true because the Bible declares it.

When Jacob left home, after the fall out from the fuss with Esau, he went to the very spot where God met with Abraham multiple times and spent the night. He had a dream and saw a ladder from Heaven to earth with angels ascending and descending upon it. God, from the top of the ladder, spoke to Jacob making him the same promises he made to Abraham and Isaac. Jacob declared this place to be the house of God and the gate to Heaven. He named it Bethel meaning house of God. Genesis 28:10-22

Elijah ascends into Heaven from Bethel. It is in this same general area that Moses, Elijah, and Jesus were transfigured. Jesus also went to a mountain and ascended into the Heavens. Clearly, there is a portal to the spiritual realm allowing Heavenly beings to enter and leave our physical realm. This portal is above the most holy spot in Israel. Angels, both righteous and rebellious, have access to the sons of men through this portal.

God has promised mankind we shall also enter His throne room via this portal in the Heavens. These same Heavens will be ripped apart at the coming of Jesus in glory. The work of the devil is to make us lose memory and/or interest in this truth. God diligently restores this truth to mankind creating a curiosity in our minds that will not let us rest until we settle the matter in our hearts.

It frightens me and frustrates the devil to know how many times there is but one man standing between humanity and lost opportunity. God seeks in every generation someone that will declare the truth and perpetuate the covenant between Heaven and earth. In times past he used Noah, Abraham, Moses, Samuel, David, Elijah, Jesus Christ of Nazareth and many others. The world denies Jesus Christ as the only way into the Heavens, but the writings of the witnesses of past ages declare He is the One sent to prepare us a place, and He will come get us so we can be where He is.

Humanity does not like the idea of a savior because they deny God's right to judge. God will come and do with us as it pleases Him. Fortunately, it is His pleasure to save mankind. Today is the day of salvation. Tomorrow is not promised to any of us, but God is gracious to consider us this day in light of the sacrifice of His only begotten Son.

In the days of Noah during the flood God saved all of the antediluvians He could. He built a boat and begged them for one hundred twenty years to get on board. He stayed the rain for seven more days, yet only eight souls got in the ark. God destroyed the rest. The rebellious descendants of Noah questioned God's right to judge by defiantly building the Tower of Babel.

In the days of Sodom and Gomorrah God saved all the souls He could. He even sent angels into the city to physically remove all that would. Even Abraham questioned God about this matter. Would God save the city for fifty righteous souls? How about 45, 40, 30, 20, 10? There were not even ten souls that wanted salvation, only four and one looked back.

Even today many people question God's right to destroy the Canaanites accusing Him of genocide and other atrocious crimes against humanity and children. Yet, when He promised the land to Abraham, God told Him it would not belong to his sons and daughters for four hundred years. Abraham believed God about a land that neither he, Isaac or Jacob ever took possession of.

God told Abraham his descendants would be slaves for four hundred years waiting for the cup of iniquity of the Amorites to become full. God gave the Canaanites four hundred years to reconcile with Him and they would not. Each time He sent His Spirit to beckon them, they like Pharaoh became more hard hearted than the time before.

When the Israelites were right at the edge of the Promised Land, they would not enter in because they feared the giants more than they believed God. The many miracles God wrought on behalf of the Israelites were not enough to increase their faith. This generation of Israelites still had a slave mentality. God returned them to the wilderness hoping to bring their sons and daughters into true freedom. Through Israel's rebellion, God gave the Canaanites another forty years of opportunity.

How many in Jericho did God desire to save? All of them. How many were saved? Only one household. A female Canaanite harlot was courageous and believed in the Israelite God. God saved her father's entire household and made her one of the grandmothers to the Messiah! The others believed their god Ba'al drove the Israelites back to the desert. They thought he would save them once again—not so!

The following information comes from:

www.britannica.com/EBchecked/topic/47227/Baal

jewishencyclopedia.com/articles/2236-ba-al-and-ba-al-worship

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Theophory_in_the_Bible

Who is Ba'al and who are the Canaanites? It was common knowledge among the early descendants of Noah that Ba'al was the son of El. The Creator of the world has a personal name, but El is His title because He is the only Creator God and Ba'al is His rebellious son. Ba'al means master, lord, husband. Only Elohim (H433 plural of El), the creator God is your master by right of design worthy as Lord and bride groom. Ephesians 5:25

In the beginning God (Elohim) created the heavens and the earth. Genesis 1:1 Elohim is plural for El because (1) The Father is God, (2) The Word is God and (3) The Holy Spirit is God and they all took part in creation. El is not God's personal name but His proper title as Creator.

The Canaanites called their other gods Ba'al and even El. Baalim (H1118) is plural for Ba'al and he doesn't care who or what you worship as long as it is not the Creator. However, God, made us in His image because He loves us. He is a jealous God because He knows His plans for us and He knows the plans the Baalim have for us.

Ba'al is anti or against God because he is in rebellion against the Creator though he calls El father to His face. All of those that chase after Ba'al also ultimately end up rebelling against the Creator. When the Israelites served the Creator they used El in various names of places and people in Israel. (Daniel, Elijah, Elisha, Ishmael, Israel, Samuel, Gabriel, Bethel, El Shaddai, etc.) When they served Ba'al you will find his name replacing the Creator God in the names of places and their children.

Noah warned his descendants about the rebellious one. Therefore, to justify the enmity Ba'al had toward El, the Canaanite priests describe Ba'al's desire to build a house of his own. Ba'al must seek permission from El. Once granted Ba'al requests that his house have no windows because he fears the flood waters.

Once the house is built, Ba'al makes windows demonstrating he is now master of the rain and the flood waters. The Canaanite worship of Ba'al is a distorted story twisting and turning the truth. Ultimately, the deception causes many to turn their backs on El, The Father of all created beings. They distort His image by calling their new gods by His holy title—El, Creator God.

The story of building a house is symbolic and code for those understanding there is a spiritual war in our midst. The Canaanites are the household of Ba'al descended from Canaan, the cursed one. The Canaanites are the first born of Ba'al. The evil spirits once housed by the Canaanites war against righteousness making Israel one of the most volatile spots on earth still today.

The Israelites, in comparison are descended from Abraham, the blessed one. They are the first born of El and bare His title within their name Isra El (H3748) which means "the Triumphant One" or "One that prevails with God" because Jacob wrestled with God regarding the matter and prevailed.

Jacob means "he who supplants" and was given a new name, Israel. Jacob was wrong to use the devil's methods to rush the promises of God. However, his great desire for the birthright to be in the family of God moved the heart of God causing His spirit to dwell with the sons of Israel.

The Canaanites and Esau despised the divine birthright choosing to be in the family of Ba'al. Esau declined the opportunity to marry from the royal family of Terah (Leah) and married a Canaanite instead. Therefore, he replaced the full blessing of Abraham by bringing upon his descendants the curse of the Canaanites. Just a side note, Esau was red headed as were many Canaanites.

When the other sons of Ham were given Africa, the Canaanites refused to go with them because their God Ba'al declared squatters rights on the land God claimed for Himself. Ba'al raised up a people to possess this land. Being in the center of the earth and bridge between continents, he had an effective location to spread the gospel of Ba'al. Networking requires location, location, location!

Ba'al claims to have seventy sons which is clearly a twist on the seventy nations in Genesis 10-11. God gives land to the nations reserving a tiny spot of land for Himself as sacred and holy. When God takes the land from the Canaanites and gives it to Israel, He is taking what is rightfully His back from Ba'al.

He invites the Canaanites to join His royal family and gives Rahab the harlot a lofty place in God's family!

It is not surprising that Rahab was a harlot. Most women under the reign of Ba'al were harlots forced into sex slavery by the belief systems of their fathers, husbands, and sons serving Ba'al. He hates women and has since he first saw Eve. When the sons of God (ben H1121 Elohim H430) or angels saw the woman God made for Adam, they all wondered. It was in the heart of the evil one to despise the woman. He teaches all men to despise and misuse the sweet gift God gave to mankind.

Ba'al claims to be the fertility god over all things that reproduce. He is the god of the lightening and thunder, the grain and rain. He has a phallus on his head making a much bigger deal of manhood than it warrants. God on the other hand, literally made a "smaller" deal of Abraham's dead male member by circumcising it and then bringing it back to life. Now, who is the real fertility God!

Ba'al has a consort with many names: Mother Goddess, Lady of the Sea, Queen of Heaven, etc. She is the first Mother Nature or Mother over the earth. According to the Canaanite teachings, she gave Ba'al seventy sons which falsely represent the seventy nations making her the mother of us all. However, El says He owns the nations and that the mother of all believers is Jerusalem. Psalm 24:1; Galatians 4:26

Ba'al is the god of this world only because men love darkness and crown him king. He is not the rightful heir to the throne. He claims to have fathered a divine bull calf by having intercourse with a heifer. Therefore, he claims the bull as the symbol of his fertility and explains why the Canaanites so often engaged in bestiality and other sexual perversions. Diseases readily transmitted through the exchange of blood and other body fluids were rampant among the Canaanite men, women, children and animals.

When the Israelites got to the border, the dark spirits prevalent in the land of Canaan came upon them enticing them to make an image to Ba'al. They formed the golden calf and honored it through fertility rituals including sexual perversions that violated women and children.

God is outraged because of the suffering of the innocent and the marring of the image representing His personal sacrifice. Jesus is the only begotten son of God and born of a woman. This divine bull is offered as an intercessory sacrifice on behalf of the Great High Priest of Israel on the Day of Atonement. This bull bears the burden of the sins of the whole world. Ba'al sullies this holy image.

"Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light." Matthew 11:28-30 NIV

The Creator God, El found a way to save mankind and our children. Ba'al has twisted The Way into a lie so he can justly slay our children. Ba'al demands his worshippers to sacrifice their progeny, but God sacrificed Himself on behalf of us and our children.

While in Egypt God sparred Israel's first born by the blood applied to their door. God claims those that open the womb demonstrating His desire to save all our children. When Christians dedicate their children to God, we are asking Him to claim them as His own by sending His sweet Holy Spirit upon, over and within them.

For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; 1 Timothy 2:3-5 ASV

The worshippers of Ba'al also dedicate their children to their god at birth. They believe their children belong to Ba'al and ask him to possess them by sending his demonic spirits upon and within their children. In return, they promise to offer the children to him upon demand. In this manner, the Canaanites perpetuate the curse for generations. Ba'al slays children, but God saves them.

The priests of Ba'al declare non truth to the world about the Creator God, El. They have distorted his merciful image with lies. God replaces the Canaanites with the Israelites desiring a godly people to declare to the nations that El the Creator God wants to save them and their children. He will slay Himself to avoid slaying our children.

God does not want anyone to sacrifice their children to the fire or illicit sex. As long as Israel keeps the commandments of God as a bill of rights for humanity, God will protect them. If they follow after Ba'al, they will be driven from the land just like the Canaanites. God is merciful but also just. It is our crimes against humanity that cause God to turn from us and not our color or our creed. He prefers no man desiring to save all men, and Israel also rebels.

Over time, many in Israel possessed by the evil spirits within the land followed after the practices of Ba'al. God also drove Israel from the land. God did everything to save the Israelites and their children, just as He did for the Canaanites and their children. God is not a hypocrite nor a respecter of persons. God's love for the Canaanite was equal to His love for Israel. His desire to save us all is more than humanity can comprehend.

Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents; They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind: Jeremiah 19:4-5

The Israelites were chosen as holy vessels to hold the oil of the Holy Spirit and shine in a dark place so men will be drawn to the light. When your light ceases to shine, you have lost your purpose and God's favor. That generation of Israelites lost the favor of God and access to the Holy Land. Why, because they dared to touch what God claimed as His own through redemption—their children.

El declares He never wanted anyone to sacrifice their sons and daughters bringing us to the question of Abraham offering his son Isaac as a sacrifice to God. The influence of Ba'al was widespread throughout the earth resulting in self preservation through Paganism among the sons of Terah.

According to Pagan teachings, children born of noble birth were taught from infancy that they belong to the gods. These gods may claim them at any time to intercede on behalf of the nation. They were forced to display courage or risk losing their honor and the blessing to the nation as a chosen one. The other option was conquer and offer the people you captured in the name of Ba'al.

In the beginning, Abraham considered the God of Creation to be similar to other gods and wondered when He would claim his son(s) born from the divine blood line. Therefore, when God told Abraham to bring his son as a sacrifice, Abraham was disappointed but not surprised. He believed in the restorative power of this God because he had healed his dead male member so he rightly believed He could resurrect even his dead son. Hebrews 11:17-19

The question for us today is why would God ask for child sacrifice when He claims to abhor it? Abraham changed his direction to follow this God, but he still held to Pagan ideas. God was about to give him a paradigm shift—a new way of thinking about the same old things.

Our ways are not the ways of God and our thoughts are not His thoughts. Therefore, when we do whatever feels natural, we are making decisions for ourselves and our offspring from the flesh. That would be fine but for one small consideration.

For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, my, pride, foolishness: All these evil things come from within, and defile the man. Mark 7:21-23 KJV

Paganism permits and encourages doing what comes natural and rarely considers the concerns of the other person. The Creator demands us to consider others. Oliver Wendell Holmes said it well when he said, "Your right to swing your fist ends where my nose begins." Jesus Christ of Nazareth said it first and better when He said, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." Luke 6:31

Abram was influenced by the Pagan environment in which he was raised. God wanted Abraham to think like Him and do things from a Godly heart. God wanted more for him than to do whatever comes natural. God wanted Abraham to be supernatural requiring perfected faith.

God met Abraham on the same mount they always met, the one where Jacob saw the portal into the Heavens at Bethel (house of God). The mount where God made the promise regarding Abraham's seed. It was on this mount that Abraham brought his son to meet God, and God met Abraham there and brought His own Son. While on the mount Abraham saw Jesus and was glad. John 8:56

God demonstrated to Abraham that his son of noble birth, born of the blood of the righteous lineage destined to produce the Promised One was not a worthy sacrifice. Therefore, God offered Himself as a supreme sacrifice because there was no greater. When you offer your children to the God of Heaven, He will do as promised and save them by His own sacrifice.

The god Ba'al desires to slay your children. God has restricted him regarding humanity (Job 2:6); therefore, he deceives mothers and fathers into slaying our own children on the altar of self interest. God wants the church to be supernatural, but it is our tendency to follow after the flesh which feels natural and deceives us into serving self as all Pagans tend to do.

We readily recognize the ways ancient ones of Canaan and Israel offered their children, but fail to recognize the myriad ways the evil one has repackaged the same old lie. He updates it with current data relative to our culture, but it is the same old deception and we are as vulnerable as they are.

Many times through the ages God has restored humanity to bring us closer to His image so that our ways and thoughts are more like His. Yet, mankind continues to fall away from the truth chasing after our Pagan tendencies—even in the body of believers. The Jewish calendar given to Moses is one of those instruments God used to draw the descendants of Abraham into ancient truths.

The eastern mind tells a story in its complete but shallow form intentionally leaving many unanswered questions. This creates a need to know in the listener. The story teller will then give you additional information spawning more questions and more information ultimately creating a dialogue that engages everyone in the story telling experience.

In the west, we think in a linear fashion even in our story telling. We tell our stories as a lecture where everyone attends quietly offering at best a possible question and answer session at the end. Hebrew writing is read in a cyclical manner reading right to left and back. In comparison, we read and write English in one direction, left to right.

The Jewish calendar is also cyclical compared to the linear calendar of the western world. In the western world, we measure time in a linear fashion by using a time line that is read from left to right. However, time is cyclical and what goes around comes back around.

We still use a device in the western world that measures time in a circle reminding us that we also once thought in a cyclical manner. The clock is round and measures the smallest increments of time in units divisible by twelve.

The calendar and the clock remind us of an ancient way of marking the passing of the ages. A massive celestial time piece measures the movements of the bodies of the heavens including the sun, the moon, planets and even the stars to mark time. God established this time piece from the very beginning so men could divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years: Genesis 1:14

The word sign is ôṭ (H226) and means a beacon or signal, an omen as in a sign for an appointed time, a harbinger. The word seasons is môēd (H4150) a fixed or appointed time as a holy day or holiday. The calendar identifies predetermined days when God will meet with man as He did with Adam in the garden. The celestial calendar is used to mark the passing of time so man will know his time of bondage will cease. They are also signs of warning regarding spiritual matters and serve as harbingers to humanity.

The zodiac is the physical manifestation or a type of the celestial time predating the Jewish calendar. The calendar Moses delivered to the Jews actually replaced the zodiac since it has been perverted and polluted with our Pagan thoughts. It was not called a zodiac in the beginning. Zodiac is a Pagan term. In the book of Job it was called Mazzaroth.

Canst thou bind the sweet influences of Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion? Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in his season? or canst thou guide Arcturus with his sons? Knowest thou the ordinances of heaven? canst thou set the dominion thereof in the earth? Job 38:31-33

In the book of Job God uses names of the stars that are familiar to us even today. God gave Adam the privilege of naming all the animals, but God named the stars calling them into their proper place. Isaiah 40:26 Some of these names have been polluted like the Mazzaroth, but some retain the very names God gave them from the beginning.

In the passage we can see that even the Heavens follow not just a path, but The Way. The Mazzaroth was designed to declare the gospel of The Way. There is a way back into the Heavens and God knowing our design and decision, decided a better destiny for mankind if we would but only follow The Way.

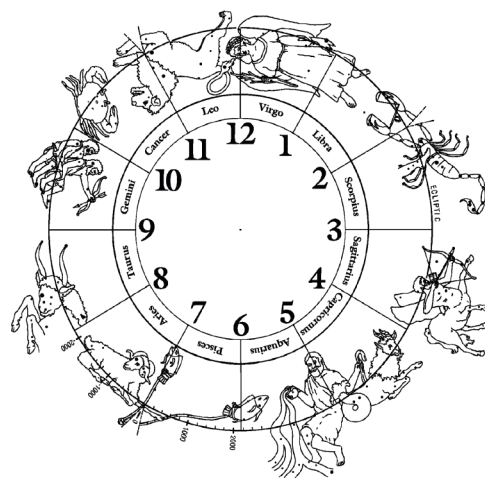

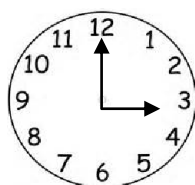

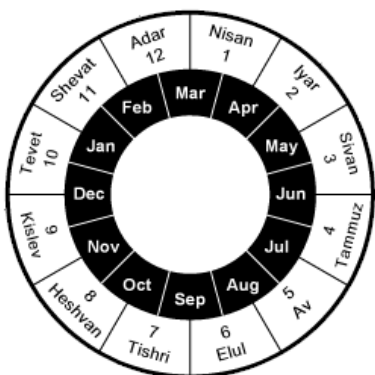

Matthew tells us of wise men that followed a path in the stars to the little town of Bethlehem. They found a child of noble birth rejected by the Jews but worshipped by the Magi as The Way. These men from the east, descendants from the keepers of the original celestial time piece, were greatly influenced by Daniel.

They were Medes, descendants of Japheth according to Josephus. Eventually, the Medes and the Persians would become one family, one nation and one in purpose. Even today the Persians have the oldest Mazzaroth known to man. It is very different from the zodiac many study today because it was better protected from the perversions of the Greeks and Romans. It is more true to the ancient teachings regarding the story in the stars handed to Noah and Shem from Adam and Seth. Antiquities 1:2:3

God asked Abram (influenced by Noah) to look at the stars. God had already told him his descendants would number like the grains of the sands of the sea. He took this same thought regarding the vastness of his progeny to share a spiritual truth with Abraham. In Genesis 15 he complains because he does not have an heir as God had previously promised. This is God's answer:

And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, So shall thy seed be. And he believed in the LORD; and he counted it to him for righteousness. Genesis 15:5-6

Is this about counting the quantity of his heirs? Yes, of course! However, there is a spiritual message there as well relating to the quality of his heirs. God is telling Abraham that his heirs will become the gospel in the flesh. The Way will be born to Israel! Circumstances in his childhood demanded that Abram spend time with Noah and Shem. They told him the gospel in the stars with a very different account than the one in Mesopotamia.

The word tell and the word number are both sâpar (H5608). Sâpar means to record something of great importance and can certainly mean to enumerate as in a count of something. However, it can also mean to recount as in retell something like a story. God is asking Abraham if he can retell the gospel in the stars given to him by Noah and Shem or does he still believe the Pagan account.

Abraham did indeed retell the story of the gospel in the stars so God does two things. Since Abraham believes God's account of the story, God counted it to him as righteousness. And he believed in the LORD; and he counted it to him for righteousness. Genesis 15:6 The word count is also a numerical term hâshab (H2803) meaning think, regard, value, compute, reckon. We give arbitrary value to our numbers so we can compute. God arbitrarily gave Abraham a value of righteousness so he would add up. In other words, God reckoned Abraham righteous.

The other thing God does for Abraham is promise that the his descendants will be heirs according to the promise in the gospel of the stars. In fact, they will be shining stars like the ones in the heavens leading men to righteousness. Daniel 12:3; Isaiah 42:6; 49:6; 51:4; 55:5

Using the Persian version of the Mazzaroth, the gospel in the stars known as The Way becomes a truth so plain no one can miss it. The symbols declare the story of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, the only begotten Son of God, and only way back into the kingdom of Heaven. The truth regarding the Mazzaroth has been obscure for many generations, but it will become available to mankind again because it also declares the sequence of events identifying His second coming.

Mankind forgot the gospel in the stars and it became a collection of perverted lies. A twisted version regarding the destiny of mankind predetermined to fail and be replaced by the Jewish calendar with its feasts and festivals. However, believers in Jesus have also forgotten the feasts and festivals of the Jewish calendar though practiced by Jesus. He is the promised fulfillment of these appointed times.

Both the ancient Mazzaroth and the Jewish calendar with its feasts and festivals are anchors that make our understanding of earth's final events solid truths gleaned from the words of the Old and New Testament prophets. The Jews for Jesus movement has done much for the final generation of believers by introducing the Jewish calendar to the church. Who will teach us the Mazzaroth?

The following information comes from:

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Zoroastrianism>

Between Abraham and Moses, there was Zarathustra. Zarathustra, like Abram, grew up in the midst of Pagan teachings. However, the God of the Heavens also spoke to the Pagan Zarathustra just as He did to the Pagan Abram. He declared there is only one God. and His glory is illustrated in the stars.

Zarathustra studied the story in the stars and was astounded by his discovery. When he looked up at the stars and saw the intricate pattern set forth by the Mazzaroth, he recognized evidence for a designer. Zarathustra longed in his heart to know the Creator of the stars and their patterns. Therefore, God revealed Himself to Zarathustra and made Him the great high priest of a family of priests—the Zoroastrians.

The Zoroastrians have much in common with the Levitical priesthood—the descendants of Levi that did not bow down to the golden calf. Aaron, Moses and Miriam were descendants of Levi. The sons of Aaron served in the Levitical priesthood for the nation of Israel. God choosing Aaron as the great high priest is ironic because while his brethren did not bow down, Aaron made the idol! The members of both the Levitical and Zoroastrian priesthood must be born into their assembly typifying our rebirth in Christ. When we are born again, we have attained the birthright to be in the priesthood of Christ.

Both priesthoods wore priestly garments—white linen with a golden sash. They even wore pants. Men wearing pants today can thank the Persians for that, but the pants the Zoroastrians wore are actually under garments. The Zoroastrian priests and the Levitical priests both wore underpants to cover their nakedness while serving the Lord. Exodus 28:42-43

Both priesthoods were keepers of the holy fire. Many consider the Zoroastrians to be worshippers of fire and the other elements. It is more correct to consider them the keepers of the flame as was Israel.

Aaron's sons Nadab and Abihu took their censers, put fire in them and added incense; and they offered unauthorized fire before the LORD, contrary to his command. So fire came out from the presence of the LORD and consumed them, and they died before the LORD. Moses then said to Aaron, "This is what the LORD spoke of when he said: "'Among those who approach me I will be proved holy; in the sight of all the people I will be honored.' "
Aaron remained silent. Leviticus 10:1-3 NIV

Cyrus the Great became the king of an empire ruled by the Medes and Persians, commonly referred to as Medo-Persia. The Medes and the Persians conquered Babylon releasing Jews to return home and financed the rebuilding of Jerusalem. 2 Chronicles 36:22-23; Ezra 1,3-6 Isaiah prophesied this well documented event long before it came to pass.

who says of Cyrus, 'He is my shepherd and will accomplish all that I please; he will say of Jerusalem, "Let it be rebuilt, "and of the temple, "Let its foundations be laid." "
"This is what the LORD says to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I take hold of to subdue nations before him and to strip kings of their armor, to open doors before him so that gates will not be shut: I will go before you and will level the mountains; I will break down gates of bronze and cut through bars of iron. I will give you hidden treasures, riches stored in secret places, so that you may know that I am the LORD, the God of Israel, who summons you by name.

Isaiah 44:28; 45:1-3 NIV

Now consider this! Cyrus the Great was also a Zoroastrian. The circumstances of his birth made him a priest with the right to the throne. This is what God wants for us. Through rebirth in Christ, we are now of royal birth—children of the most high God both priests and kings. Notice the priestly garments worn by Cyrus. He was considered the most noble of conquering kings because of the way he handled his conquests. Under the influence of the teachings of Zarathustra, Cyrus embraced certain truths:

(1) There is a creator God of all humanity. (2) This God has two sons, one is pure evil and the other is benevolent toward mankind. (3) All men are born with free will to choose between good and evil. Mankind is not coerced into serving God, but every man is given the divine right to be wrong. (4) There will be a judgment and a resurrection. Cyrus respected the beliefs of mankind in a way that other conquerors have not.

The Cyrus Cylinder proclaimed the conquering of Babylon just as the Bible describes it. It also contains the first human bill of rights as recognized by the world. Cyrus's laws were influenced by the belief system of Zarathustra delivered to him by the only Creator God. Zoroastrians were monotheists as were the Israelites.

The Magi that traveled to see Jesus were descended from men like Cyrus the Great and born into the priesthood of Zoroastrianism. When Cyrus captured Babylon, Daniel was alive to meet him and influence the Magi. It was Daniel that taught them the prophecies regarding the Promised One and to look for His star. The Magi were not kings as we are taught, but they are warrior priests known throughout the nations as king makers.

When the Magi entered Jerusalem, Herod and the entire city was "troubled" because everyone knew Herod was an usurper. He was not of the royal house with the right to reign. Therefore, he was terrified for Rome to know the Magi and their entourage came seeking the divinely appointed king. They bowed down to Jesus pledging their allegiance to protect Him with their sword.

The gifts the Magi brought to the child are rich in value and meaning. In offering gold, frankincense and myrrh as precious gifts, the Magi recognized something in Jesus the Jews did not. In the Jewish temple in front of the curtain separating the two compartments, the holy from the most holy, stood an altar of sacred fire. Twice daily an offering of frankincense and myrrh was offered on this gold covered altar. The Magi considered themselves the keepers of the sacred fire, but they acknowledged Jesus as the ultimate keeper of the fire in the Heavenly temple.

Jesus has been standing, as the angel of the Lord, at the altar of incense. His presence continually gives a sweet savor to the presence of mankind when we boldly by invitation enter into the throne room of God. He daily, evening and morning, intercedes on behalf of us. He is our faith like gold tried in the sacred fire giving a sweet fragrant smell when we enter into the presence of the holy beings. The Magi, whether consciously or not, revered Christ as the true keeper of the sacred fire and the God of right living.

¹⁸ And the angel of the LORD said unto him, Why askest thou thus after my name, seeing it is secret?

²⁰ For it came to pass, when the flame went up toward heaven from off the altar, that the angel of the LORD ascended in the flame of the altar. And Manoah and his wife looked on it, and fell on their faces to the ground.

Judges 13:18-20 KJV

The Greek and Roman zodiac identify Gemini as twin sons of Zeus in their perversion of the zodiac. One twin born to a woman, therefore, mortal, the other born of a goddess and immortal. In comparison, the twins the Greeks erroneously call Gemini, are recognized by Zarathustra, as sons of the Creator God...one evil and the other good. This righteous one will prevail over the evil one in the final days.

The God of Heaven (Elohim) has many angel sons (ben H1121 Elohim H433). Job 1:6; 2:1 However, there are two angel sons closest to the throne of God. One is at the right hand of God and is known as Michael, the prince of the people of God. Daniel 10:13, 21: 12:1 He is also known as the angel of the Lord. Genesis 16:7, 22:11; Exodus 3:2; Judges 2:1, 4 He is the rightful heir to the throne because He is the only begotten Son of God. It is through this Son, as redeemer kinsman, that mankind also become sons and daughters of God. The other son is at the left hand of God and was known as Lucifer (Ba'al), son of the morning, before the fall of mankind. Isaiah 14:12 This son constantly accuses the brethren day and night. Revelation 12:10

These sons are the covering cherubs represented by the angelic beings resting on the covering of the ark of the covenant. This covering is the mercy seat and is God's throne. These two sons are the ones

Zarathustra knew as the righteous one and the evil one. The Magi, in bringing the specific gifts to Jesus, acknowledge that He is the righteous one to come in the flesh and prevail against all evil.

In the world of the Magi, many honored and worshiped the four elements: wind, water, earth and fire.

Zarathustra considered the four elements to be sacred gifts from the Creator as necessary to mankind's existence. The understanding regarding the four elements wind, water, earth and fire became corrupted and the elements are still worshipped in the orient today.

Superstitions abound and rumor overshadowed truth declaring one would come as a bender of the elements. The one with the ability to control the elements would be the one with the right to reign over the earth and its elements. Satan will bring fire down from heaven deceiving many into believing that he is this rightful one, but please consider the following:

Jesus and His disciples were on the sea in a boat and there came up a fierce storm. Jesus was asleep demonstrating he was a man just like any other with a body that needed rest. However, when the disciples ran and woke Him, He commanded the elements to be still. The men were amazed and asked, "What kind of man is this? Even the winds and the waves obey him!" Matthew 8:27 NIV

It was at the crucifixion and the resurrection that the earth quaked. At the crucifixion, many rose from their graves then later went into the city as witnesses on behalf of the resurrection. After His ascension, Jesus sent the Spirit of God to mere mortal men and women as sacred fire that burned within and upon them but did not consume them. Truly, Jesus of Nazareth, sitting at the right hand of the Father as the keeper of the flame, is the true bender of all four of the elements—earth, wind, water and fire.

I made a point earlier of telling you that the Levitical and Zoroastrian priesthood wore special garments—white linen with golden sashes. These garments declare to the cosmos that you have entered the priesthood of Christ. These white garments are also worn by angelic beings because they are ministering spirits to mankind. They dwell within the starry heavens and are sent by God as servants of the Heavenly priesthood and angelic host.

In Revelation 1:13-15, Jesus also wears the priestly garments. The great high priest of Israel had special garments he wore only on the Day of Atonement. Jesus will one day put on the garments of vengeance that belong only to the great high priest of the Heavens and the most high God since vengeance belongs only to God. As our great high priest, Jesus will wear these garments only one time—when He comes to rescue the saints and resurrect the dead. The rest of the time, like the great high priest of Israel, He wears the garments of any other priest.

The priestly garments worn by Aaron and his sons as well as Zarathustra and the Zoroastrians remind us that we have opportunity to be like the righteous angels in Heaven and will also wear these robes of white. I believe that even the angels are righteous through Jesus and Him alone. The righteousness of Christ that we wear now will be made manifest in these white robes.

Having shared all this information with you, you probably think I am suggesting that we all be Zoroastrians. Not so. I see in their story a struggle to be faithful to the God of Heaven. I also see His power and desire concerning the sons of man and marvel. Why He would go to such length to save flesh is truly beyond my comprehension. The only thing that makes sense is love.

God loved His faithful servant Zarathustra even in his human and frail form just as He loved David. They were both men after God's own heart. David, in his sin, was the rightful heir to the throne of Israel for a moment in time. However, it is Jesus that will reign over humanity throughout eternity. Without His right to the throne, you and I have no right to the kingdom. Therefore, any religion that does not proclaim Christ is void.

The Zoroastrians of this generation deny the Magi ever came to the birth of Christ. Israel denies the significance of His birth. I believe the birth, life, death and resurrection of the man Jesus Christ makes him the only man that matters in any meaningful way to the whole world. All of us are insignificant in light of Christ. However, throughout the ages there are men and women giving their lives to the Creator believing in His Promised One. It appears to me that Zarathustra and Abraham served this God.

Our story began with the sexual revolution of the sixties with the outpouring of the spirit of Mother Nature in the dawning of the age of Aquarius. News flash! Aquarius was not a female—ever! This is another perversion of the Mazzaroth. In the ancient zodiacs, Aquarius was male and means literally water carrier. In the sixties, the evil son of God poured the spirit of demons upon our nation, but the Son of Righteousness has also poured the Spirit of God upon humanity with healing. Malachi 4:1-3

This Spirit is a continuous spring of living water that never runs dry. It is poured out in measure according to the receiving vessel. Jesus is the only man that received the Spirit of God without measure. John 3:34-35 In the last days the earth will be a dry, thirsty land. However, the saints living at the end of the ages will receive an outpouring of this spirit without measure. These empowered ones will do the work of God beckoning the final generation to the last altar call. Welcome to the age of Aquarius!

Now on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried out, saying, "If anyone is thirsty, let him come to Me and drink. "He who believes in Me, as the Scripture said, 'From his innermost being will flow rivers of living water.'" But this He spoke of the Spirit, whom those who believed in Him were to receive; for the Spirit was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet glorified.
