About Annual Meeting 2019

The theme for the event, "Advance," is designed around the BGC0's mission statement: "We encourage one another to advance the Gospel."

Highlights of the annual meeting include the presentation of Dr. Dilbeck's vision plan for the next several years as well as a new brand for the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma. Annual Meeting preachers include Dr. Hance Dilbeck, BGC0 President Blake Gideon, and the annual sermon by Dr. Rusty McMullen. The Annual Meeting will include times of worship and fellowship with important business being taken care of during three separate business sessions scheduled Monday evening and during both sessions on Tuesday.

In addition to the Annual Meeting, please make plans to bring your church members and stay for the IMB Sending Celebration on Tuesday evening

The BGC0 Annual Meeting consists of church members who are elected as messengers to represent their local church body in business decisions during the Annual Meeting.

For more information, or if you have any questions, please contact the BGC0 Executive Office at 405) 942-3000 x 4528 or email cbeverage@bgco.

Only elected messengers have voting privileges at the Annual Meeting. Church members interested in serving as a messenger should contact their church office for information on becoming an elected messenger. Every elected messenger will receive a messenger booklet and voting ballots upon checking in at the Annual Meeting. Messenger pre-registration is open for churches to register their elected messengers prior to the Annual Meeting, allowing for a quick and easy on-site check-in process.
