

Team Leader Training

SEND has developed a training workshop weekend that will prepare team leaders to lead groups on short-term mission trips. The workshop is geared to those interested in leading teams as well as church mission committee members. During the workshop the team leader will become familiar with the short-term mission training material, will be given tips on how to best use this material for team training and will experience some of the training he or she will conduct with the team. Some of the topics covered are: Starting the Process, Spiritual Development, Servant Attitude, Strategic Planning and Team Re-entry. Our hope is that you and your organization will be better prepared to have a successful short-term ministry trip.
