Hardest thing about an paper is to learn how to work with the plan. The plan is a skeleton, a structure filled with specific content. Try to take essay essays yourself and apply compression and deployment. As a sample, you can take a plan on which to build a response in a good textbook or tutorial. Compression first abstract. Take a look at any topic from the textbook, remove all the excess ("drain the water"). Break your note on semantic blocks and highlight the supporting in them words.
