An Introduction from Bishop Sutton

“Now send us out to do the work you have given us to do” (BCP 366)

The central role of the deacon is to send the church out, individually and collectively, to do God’s work in the world. In their role as “community organizers,” deacons hold up the needs of the world while they encourage and guide the People of God to live out their baptismal promises, transforming the world through works of mercy and justice.

It is to this work that deacons are called. With God’s help, the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland has been forming, ordaining, deploying and supporting deacons to answer that call for many years. Still, our diocese needs more deacons to inspire and guide our parishes in response to the many needs in our midst. In order to build up this ministry of servanthood, we have prayed, discerned, listened, and developed a program for deacon formation in our diocese.

This manual introduces a new formation paradigm that aligns with the continuing evolution of the diaconate in the Episcopal Church. As we strive to make formation more accessible, flexible and attractive to the diversity of people who are called to be deacons, we employ an adult learning model that begins with the experiences, knowledge and spiritual maturity that applicants bring, and builds toward canonically required competencies for ordination and ongoing development across the arc of their service to the church.

We invite the whole diocese to help us find and form future deacons who will continue to send us all out to do God’s work in the world.

The Rt. Rev. Eugene Taylor Sutton
Bishop of Maryland

DISCERNMENT

When God Really Nudges Us
(“Elbow in the Ribs” Experience)

Four avenues to consider:

1. Monastic life – not as our stereotype would see it, but as a disciplined structure of prayer, study, and service, responsive to God’s call, and in the context of community. We need to learn a LOT about emergent forms of monasticism, non-residential monastic communities, and the invitation to become more intentional and accountable in our spiritual life. Monastic in the broad sense of intentionality around adopting specific patterns and practice of wholeness, may also mean an assumed discipline of becoming healthier in body and mind: undergoing psychotherapy, entering into recovery, adopting a physical discipline of exercise, cultivating a creative discipline, learning a new language, or seeking a coach/mentor to gain a new skill or sharpen a current skill.

3. Ordination as a servant leader, a deacon. A separate and equal order, NOT a booby prize. Under authority, with both bishop and local person with oversight. Primarily centered in the Table, the Towel, the Book and the Door, symbols of a deacon’s ministry.

4. Ordination as a priest, a sacramental, teaching, governing, and pastoral ministry. Expressed in many ways, but primarily centered on the altar and pulpit. Preparation for this ministry includes seminary work, will involve study and learning, as this is a teaching role. A mastery of content will be expected. A spectrum of skills will be cultivated.

As we take seriously the calls and journeys of those who come to us, let us own all these paths as our responsibility to affirm and support. One path is not holier than another. Our responsibility is to help discern what path the Holy Spirit is calling each person to travel, be it 1 or 2 above or 3 or 4 above, at THIS MOMENT on the journey.

God honors each path, and says a divine YES! to each vocation. Our job is not binary (are you called to be ordained or not?) but multivalent, given that there are four broad general avenues open in discernment.

(Retired) Assistant Bishop of Maryland

What is a Deacon?
Quotes on the Diaconate

“Deacons call us to the margins where Jesus expects to meet the church.”

The Rt. Rev. Rob Wright, Bishop of Atlanta

“Deacons are the ‘ants in the pants’ of the Church, spurring the Church to care for others and look beyond institutional maintenance to mission in the world.”

The Ven. Audrey Delafield, Retired Archdeacon, Diocese of Maine

“The diaconate, an institution of great importance in the early church, is again coming to life in the church as a ministry and office closely related to central aspects of the church’s identity: service, outreach, humility, concern for human needs.”

The Hanover Report (1996)

Of all the orders of ministry, the diaconate embodies the servanthood of Jesus, with concern for the last, the lost and the least.

Bishop Neil Alexander, Dean, School of Theology, Sewanee

The Rev. Jeffrey D. Lee (now Bishop of Chicago) began an address in 1991 to the North American Association for the Diaconate (now AED – Association of Episcopal Deacons), saying that the Church must be about “Recovering a full realization of the awesome dignity of baptismal vocation and ministry, of which the diaconate is the principal sign.”

“The qualifications for the diaconate are quite different from those of the priesthood. The tendency to create qualifications for deacons in the same general pattern (except in lesser degree) as for those in the priesthood remains a significant problem, stemming as it does from the centuries-old single model of ministry, that of the priest... The symbol of the deacon’s ministry of the Word is the high privilege of reading the Gospel at the Eucharist. Liturgically, this is the apex of the ministry of the Word, as is shown... by the people standing....”

James Monroe Barnett, The Diaconate: A Full and Equal Order

Deacons are ordained to a separate, distinct and equal order of ministry. The deacon is a “community organizer,” encouraging and guiding the People of God to live out their baptismal promise to serve Christ by serving others. Deacons’ responsibilities in the liturgy include: proclaiming the Gospel, facilitating the Prayers of the People, bidding the Confession, serving at Table, and announcing the Dismissal to send the Church, individually and collectively, out to serve. In short, the priest pastors the flock gathered around the altar and the deacon leads the flock out the doors into servant ministry.

Both the order of deacons and the Church’s commitment to serve disadvantaged people were instituted in its earliest days, as described in Acts 6:1-8:2.

The Canons of the Episcopal Church clarify the role of a deacon in the ongoing life of the Church (Title III, Canon 7, Section 1 and 4):

Deacons serve directly under the authority of and are accountable to the bishop. The bishop, after consultation with the deacon and the member of clergy exercising oversight, may assign a deacon to one or more congregations, other communities of faith or non-parochial ministries. Deacons assigned to a congregation or other community of faith act under the authority of the member of clergy or other leader exercising oversight in all matters concerning the congregation.

The charge to deacons during ordination defines their unique ministry (BCP 543):

God now calls you to a special ministry of servanthood directly under your bishop. In the name of Jesus Christ, you are to serve all people, particularly the poor, the weak, the sick, and the lonely. As a deacon in the Church, you are to study the Holy Scriptures, to seek nourishment from them, and to model your life upon them. You are to make Christ and his redemptive love known, by word and example, to those among whom you live, and work, and worship. You are to interpret to the Church the needs, concerns, and hopes of the world. You are to assist the bishop and priests in public worship and in the ministration of God’s Word and Sacraments, and you are to carry out other duties assigned to you from time to time. At all times, your life and teaching are to show Christ’s people that in serving the helpless they are serving Christ himself.

Mission: To engage and inspire the People of God to follow Jesus’ example, loving and serving others in daily life, and reaching across boundaries to serve and advocate for marginalized and disadvantaged people.

Vision: That the People of God, through their lives of service and advocacy, will be active and visible witnesses to God’s justice, peace and love in the world.
On Engaging the Diakonia of all Believers
Theological Statement of the Association of Episcopal Deacons (AED)

Diakonia is central to fulfilling the church’s mission as servant leaders. Diakonia is not optional in the Gospel of Jesus Christ; rather it is an essential part of discipleship. Diakonia reaches out to all persons created in God’s image, and all of God’s creation. While diakonia begins in unconditional service to neighbor in need, it leads inevitably through advocacy and prophetic proclamation to bear witness in word and deed to God’s presence in the midst of our lives.

We are shaped to serve others through worship, where we celebrate God’s gift of grace in the Word, water, bread and wine, through which we glimpse the fulfillment of God’s promise. In this broken world where sin and injustice abound, God in Christ through the power of the Holy Spirit shapes us as a gathered community. Thus, we become the voice, hands and feet of Christ and agents of grace for the healing of the world.

All Christians are called through the baptismal covenant to live out diakonia through what they do and how they live their daily life in the world. This is the first and most fundamental expression of diakonia. Organized expressions of diakonia occur at the congregational level, as well as through those who are set apart as ordained deacons. Deacons are to model and lead, by inspiring, empowering, and engaging every baptized person in living out the diakonia of all believers in everyday life. Deacons do not – cannot – “do” diakonia on behalf of the baptized, but they help to lead all people, including the ordained, into the servant ministry of all believers which is the essence of our baptismal covenant.

Because of the holistic mission of God, diakonia is deeply interrelated with kerygma (proclamation of the Word) and koinonia (sharing at the Table). Diakonia is witnessing through deeds. It is rooted in the sharing of the body and blood of Christ in the Eucharist. The mutual sharing inherent in the communion of the Church bears witness in word and deed to the unjust power relations that often are present in some diaconal work, such as between “wealthy givers” and “poor recipients.” In diakonia those serving and those served are both transformed; the purpose of diakonia is to make Christ’s redemptive love known by word and example, not to proselytize. Diakonia is not the strong serving the weak, which can lead to paternalism by assuming that some churches are unable to engage in diakonia because of their lack of resources or expertise. As Episcopalians, we envision that diakonia is part of the calling of all churches, regardless of size and all Christians, regardless of wealth, because we believe that all of God’s people, individually, and as communities, are blessed with gifts to share.

We must challenge all theological interpretations that do not take seriously the suffering in the world, a world afflicted with poverty, violence and injustice, and environmental degradation. We must also challenge all theological interpretations that do not take seriously the systems, structures, and powers that foster, or even benefit from, poverty, violence, and injustice, and environmental degradation. As Episcopalians, we are shaped by both an incarnational theology and a theology of the cross. In the incarnation, God’s identification with all of humanity, indeed with all of creation, compels us to identify with all of our sisters and brothers, and the environment in which we live.

Christ’s suffering on the cross compels us to identify especially with those of our sisters and brothers who suffer today, moving beyond politeness and pretense, breaking the silence and risking speaking truth to power, even when this threatens the established order and results in hardship or persecution. This is the heart of the prophetic diaconal calling.

The Association of Episcopal Deacons (AED) is a the central, authoritative source on the diaconate in the Episcopal Church.

Discernment, Application and Diaconal Formation Summary

Discernment and Application

- A person who believes God is calling him/her/them prayerfully explores that call in community with their congregation and priest. The discerner and their priest may meet with the Canon for Discernment. They begin work with a Parish Discernment Committee. If the call is affirmed, the congregation makes a nomination to the bishop for ordinations.

- Discernment programs at the diocesan level are Exploring Baptismal Ministry (EBM) and Discerning Ordained Vocation (DOV), which support and guide the discerner to choose between monastic life, intentional lay ministry and ordination to the diaconate or the priesthood.

- The nominee will have a personal meeting with the Canon for Ordinations and perhaps others as requested by the bishop. If discernment points the way forward into the ordination process, the nominee makes application for postulancy, using the required form. For acceptance into postulancy, all tasks must be complete, including background check, medical and psychological evaluations, following directions in the application packet.

- The Commission on Ministry reviews the completed application and interviews the nominee to determine its recommendation re: postulancy.

- Postulants for the diaconate begin accumulating a portfolio to document and describe all prior experiences, education and trainings to be assessed for possible application to formation requirements.

- An assessment review of the portfolio forms the basis of an Individual Formation Plan (IFP). The assessment will involve the Canon for Discernment, the archdeacons and the deacon mentor.

Diaconal Formation Summary

The Deacon Formation Program (DFP) is an adult learning process for meeting both canonical and diocesan standards. Diaconal formation requires a minimum of two years, and must be completed within five years.

The Deacon Formation Program is comprised of five Elements of Formation:

- Canonical areas of competency:
- Academic studies including Holy Scriptures, theology, ethics and the traditions of the Church
- Diakonia and the diaconate
- Human awareness and understanding
- Liturgy, worship and the Book of Common Prayer

- Spiritual formation (spiritual direction, a rule of life, spiritual retreats, spiritual growth and renewal programs.)

- Three required internships:
  - Parish ministry internship in an Episcopal congregation/faith community
  - Pastoral formation in a clinical setting (hospital, assisted care facility, etc.)
  - Community or social internship in a social justice agency, initiative or advocacy program

- Required diocesan trainings:
  - Safeguarding God’s Children (online, required before any internship)
  - Safeguarding God’s People (online, required before any internship)
  - Racism awareness training (Seeing the Face of God in Each Other)
  - Domestic violence awareness training (Breaking the Silence)

- Engagement in community with deacons and others in formation:
  - Overnight retreats – 3 per year – Postulants are required to attend unless excused.
  - Regular meetings with a deacon mentor to provide one-to-one guidance and support. This relationship begins in postulancy and continues through the first two years after ordination.

The work completed for each of the five components of formation is documented and added to the portfolio and the diocesan file. Documentation is established through certificates, presentations made to the DFP community, reflection papers, research reports, supervisory and self-evaluations, written/oral exams, academic papers, sermons, descriptions of adult formation projects developed and led, videotapes, digital scrapbooks, transcripts, memos, etc.

The Deacon Formation Program builds a learning community in which each participant functions as both learner and teacher. Much of the time spent in the overnight retreats involves peer learning, theological reflection and sharing of expertise. Several deacon mentors are present at each of the overnight retreats, lending their wisdom and expertise to the retreat. Postulants keep lines of communication open in various ways between retreats.
Deacon Formation Program (DFP) Requirements

The outcome of the Deacon Formation Program is that all deacons have fundamental competencies and that all have specialized skills to grow and to develop. Formation does not end with ordination. Each postulant follows an Individualized Formation Program (IFP), based on the initial portfolio, that can be individualized, customized and continued beyond ordination.

With regard to the possibilities of exceptions, the Bishop’s authority will prevail.

RE: Deacon Formation Program Tuition

The Diocese of Maryland Deacon Formation Program (DFP) has undergone some changes beginning the fall of 2017 and has evolved into an adult learning model. DFP begins at admission to Postulancy and ends with ordination as a Vocational Deacon.

Effective September 1, 2017, tuition for the Deacon Formation Program is $1,800.00. The Postulant will be charged $1,800.00 at the start of Postulancy. This obligation must be paid in full before the Postulant is granted Candidacy. Payments are payable to the “Diocese of Maryland”, marked with the postulant’s name and “Deacon Formation Program Tuition” on the memo line. Send payments to Eve Wayne, Diocese of Maryland, 4 E. University Parkway, Baltimore, MD 21218.

Please note that there may be other costs incurred during Postulancy including, but not limited to:

- Education for Ministry, seminary, or online course tuition;
- Clinical Pastoral Education or alternative pastoral training;
- Other support and/or training;
- Travel and overnights.

The Postulant is urged to consider what resources might be available to cover DFP tuition and others costs. For example, resources from yourself, your parish, relatives, or sponsors. We suggest each Postulant estimate the total of all costs –to the extent possible – and make requests to supporters for a portion of this total. Once all sources have been tapped, if the DFP is still out of reach, please let me know. Scholarship funds have been donated by deacons in our diocese for this purpose. We intend that the cost of DFP is not a barrier to ordination.

The Diaconate in the Diocese of Maryland is a vibrant and growing ministry. You are an important part of that growth and the mission work of the diocese. You are important to us and we are excited to have you as a part of our Deacon Formation Program. Please contact me with any questions.

Yours in Christ,

BISHOP’S POLICY FOR LITURGICAL FUNCTIONING AS POSTULANT OR CANDIDATE

The Rt. Rev. Eugene Taylor Sutton, Bishop of Maryland, has issued the following Internship Guidelines which apply to Congregational Internships in both Discerning Ordained Vocation (DOV) and in Deacon Formation Program (DFP Internships). These Guidelines were first established in 2012, and have been renewed each year thereafter:

An intern is NOT to function as ordained clergy, so do not use Postulants or Candidates (for the diaconate or the priesthood) or any lay person to:

1. Set the Table, although they are encouraged to assist the Celebrant as any lay liturgical altar server might do.

2. Proclaim the Gospel in the Eucharistic liturgy, unless a special exception is made. These exceptions are limited to matters of language. By permission of the Bishop, anyone can proclaim the Gospel if there is a language barrier to be overcome.

3. Invite the worshipping community to Confession.

4. Pronounce the Dismissal at the end of the liturgy.

Virtually any ministry which can be exercised by lay persons may be exercised by those seeking ordination.

Ample opportunity is given during priestly and diaconal formation for these liturgical functions to be taught and learned. There is no need to pre-empt the normal course of training in order to learn what one has to do in the liturgy once ordained.
HOW ARE DEACONS DEPLOYED?

• NORMS FOR DEACON DEPLOYMENT
Norms for Deacon Deployment

In the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland

"Deacons serve directly under the authority of and are accountable to the Bishop. The Bishop, after consultation with the Deacon and the Member of the Clergy exercising oversight, may assign a Deacon to one or more congregations, other communities of faith or non-parochial ministries. Deacons assigned to a congregation or other community of faith act under the authority of the Member of the Clergy or other leader exercising oversight in all matters concerning the congregation."  (Canons of the Episcopal Church, Title III, Canon 7, Sections 1 and 4.)

The Archdeacon for Deployment and Pastoral Care assists the Bishop with the administration of the Deacons in the Diocese.

Note: In cases of any disputes about these norms, the Archdeacon will be consulted and the Bishop is the final arbiter.

1. Pre-Assignment:
   A. The Member of the Clergy exercising oversight submits the Request for a Deacon to the Bishop and the Archdeacon for Deployment and Pastoral Care describing the need for a Deacon and outlining the Deacon’s ministry in that congregation/organization.
   B. The Deacon’s gifts/skills must match the needs of the congregation/organization.
   C. Although the Deacon’s assignment is ultimately the Bishop’s decision, the Deacon’s desires may be taken into account.
   D. The Deacon and Member of the Clergy exercising oversight meet to discuss the prospective assignment before the placement is finalized. If approved, a Letter of Agreement (LOA), which must be signed by the Bishop, is developed.
   E. No Deacon is assigned a long distance away from his/her home, unless agreed upon by the Deacon, Member of the Clergy exercising oversight, and the Bishop.
   F. Archdeacons, experienced Deacons, or appropriate diocesan staff members conduct training/orientation for prospective Members of the Clergy exercising oversight as to their role in the diocesan vision for the diaconate.
   G. An orientation video, “Deacons: Much More Than Sundays,” and associated discussion guide are available to increase awareness of deacons. Likewise, congregations may invite Deacon Ambassadors to bring the deacon experience on a Sunday morning. Contact archdeacon@episcopalmaryland.org.
2. Assignment:

A. The Bishop may assign the Deacon to a non-parochial or parochial ministry. The assignment is defined in a letter of agreement signed by the Bishop, the Deacon and the Member of the Clergy exercising oversight.

B. Non-parochial assignments are important, even desired. However, each Deacon should have a congregation that is considered his/her spiritual “home base,” where the Deacon functions to the full extent of his/her Order at least once a month.

C. The Bishop may decide, on a case-by-case basis, to appoint a Deacon to his/her sponsoring congregation.

D. The Deacon’s ministry in a congregation is non-stipendiary. However, congregations reimburse Deacons for professional travel mileage, Diocesan Convention, and Clergy Conference.

E. Arrangements for Continuing Education will be specified in the Letter of Agreement. Continuing Education funds are available from the Diocesan Office.

F. Deacons who are employees in any church position (for which any qualified lay or ordained person is eligible) will be compensated for that specific employment, including Pension Benefits through the Clergy Pension Group.

G. The Deacon’s ministry is normally 6-10 hours per week, including Sunday mornings and sermon preparation. A Deacon may volunteer for more hours but is not obligated to do so.

H. The Deacon’s assignment is normally three years, although exceptions are made by the Bishop on a case-by-case basis.

I. The Member of the Clergy exercising oversight and the Deacon will meet for an annual evaluation/ministry review. The report will be signed by the Deacon, Member of the Clergy exercising oversight and the Bishop.

3. Retirement:

Revised 3-21-18
Sample Letter of Agreement for Deacons in Parish Assignments

Deacon ________________________________________ and the Right Rev. Eugene Taylor Sutton, Bishop of Maryland, under whom the deacon directly serves, agree that the deacon’s exercise of the diaconate in the Diocese of Maryland shall be subject to the terms set forth in this Letter of Agreement.

1. The deacon and the congregation accept the following principles of the Church’s ministry:
   a. The Church is a body with many members, each sent by Christ with special gifts to minister to one another and to others.
   b. In the congregation all ministries are exercised under the oversight of the bishop of the diocese and under the immediate leadership and authority of the priest of the congregation.
   c. The fundamental ministry of the deacon is to hold before the Church the character of the whole ministry of the Church as service, and of her members as servants.
   d. The ministry of the deacon includes working collaboratively with other members of the Church (lay persons, bishops, and priests), providing servant leadership and support while seeking always to build up the Body of Christ.

2. The bishop hereby assigns Deacon ________________________________________ to serve in ___________________________ (the congregation) as deacon, on a part-time, non-salaried basis, for the term of this Agreement. Administratively, the deacon reports to the priest of the congregation, who shall serve as the deacon’s immediate supervisor.

3. The primary role of the deacon is to lead the congregation, individually and collectively, into the world to address human suffering and injustice. The deacon may achieve this through empowerment of the laity to advocate for and improve community conditions, especially as they affect people who are poor, sick, weak and lonely. (Append to this agreement a description of proposed diaconal activities to lead congregation into ministry in the world.)

4. The deacon shall serve liturgically as follows:
   a. The deacon shall perform the full and proper role of a deacon (as specified in the canons of The Episcopal Church and the rubrics of the Book of Common Prayer) at the Eucharist on Sunday and in all major liturgies of the congregation’s life. In the Eucharist the deacon proclaims the Gospel, waits at table (preparing and clearing), and dismisses the people. In addition, the deacon should normally bid the confession, and facilitate the prayers of the people, receive the offerings and distribute Communion where those functions are not normally assigned to others.
b. The deacon may at any time take the Eucharist, bread and wine, to the sick and infirm of the congregation, and may anoint the sick. The deacon may train and support Lay Eucharistic Visitors who carry the sacrament from the congregation on Sunday, if the priest and community support that ministry.
c. The deacon assists in other liturgies such as baptisms, weddings, and funerals, and in inter-parochial or diocesan liturgies when called upon to do so. The deacon may be officiant at baptisms, weddings and funerals under designated diocesan guidelines. (See the Clergy Handbook)

5. The bishop hereby licenses the deacon to compose and preach liturgical homilies in this diocese, when properly invited to do so, but with the understanding that the priest is the ordinary preacher of the congregation. In services conducted by the deacon, the deacon ordinarily is the preacher. The deacon is normally provided the opportunity to preach at least once a month.

6. In liturgical services, the deacon may not function in roles proper to priests or other persons. Likewise, priests or other persons in the congregation should not normally exercise liturgical functions proper to the deacon nor wear vestments suggestive of the diaconate. The deacon may, when the service of a priest cannot be obtained, distribute Holy Communion from the Reserved Sacrament as outlined in page 408 of the Book of Common Prayer and in the Clergy Handbook of the Diocese of Maryland.

7. The deacon's proper liturgical garments are a diaconal stole and dalmatic. The deacon may wear a clerical collar as the ministry requires. Titles and forms of address permitted the deacon are the word "Deacon," either as prefix or suffix, and/or the ascription "The Reverend." The deacon may place a small cross after his/her name when signing official church documents, signifying his/her status as ordained clergy.

8. The bishop expects a non-salaried deacon in the Diocese of Maryland to serve approximately 6-10 hours per week including weekend worship and sermon preparation; this may include social, pastoral, and liturgical functions, with the understanding that this service shall not conflict with the deacon's professional employment, if any. A Deacon may volunteer for more hours but is not obligated to do so.

9. The deacon shall be allowed the following periods of leave:
a. Four weeks vacation each year, not necessarily consecutively.
b. Two weeks for the development of diaconal ministry.
c. Sick leave and inclement weather absence as required.
d. Such other leave as is required to develop and maintain self-support outside the assigned congregation, with adequate advance notice.
e. Sabbatical leave by arrangement with the bishop after seven years of service.

10. The deacon shall serve the congregation without cash stipend, housing, or housing allowance. The congregation shall reimburse the deacon for all conferences that the deacon is required to attend, such as Diocesan Convention, Clergy Conference, vestry retreats, etc. The congregation shall pay for expenses incurred by the deacon in service to the congregation, including mileage at the diocesan rate. The deacon may accept an honorarium for supply services according to the diocesan honoraria schedule when such services are performed in a worship setting other than his/her assignment.

11. The deacon is entitled to have seat and voice in the vestry or advisory board, and is to participate in the annual congregational meeting and other appropriate bodies.

12. When problems arise which affect the welfare and unity of the congregation, the deacon will bring them to the priest or senior warden and shall follow their counsel and advice. The archdeacon may provide support for problem solving. If unresolved, the bishop is the final arbiter.

13. At least once each month, the deacon shall meet with the rector/vicar to discuss the special ministries of the deacon. If trust and harmony have been seriously broken, then the deacon and rector will inform and seek support from the archdeacon.

14. The deacon shall annually review with the priest of the congregation his/her ministry over the past year including performance on the Letter of Agreement with the attachments. The substance of this review is recorded in the deacon’s Annual Report sent to the archdeacon in August of each year.

15. During April, the deacon and/or the priest should inform the archdeacon of their intention to continue (or not) the deacon’s placement in the congregation for an additional year beginning September 1. Final decisions about deacons’ assignments are made by the bishop.

16. Each congregation served by a deacon is expected to contribute annually to support the Deacon Program. The contribution shall be consistent with the following schedule:

Liturgy to Celebrate a New Ministry for a Deacon

Concerning the Service

The new deacon will perform all diaconal liturgical duties in this service. It is appropriate to plan the celebration of new ministry with the deacon participating in the choice of readings, hymns, and the selection of gifts for ministry.

The Welcome Rite immediately follows the Collect of the Day.

After the presentation of gifts, the liturgy continues with the readings for the day, with the deacon proclaiming the Gospel.

The Litany for New Ministry replaces the Prayers of the People.

Normally the Collect and Lectionary Readings assigned for the Sunday of the service are used. If not, you may choose from the following

Alternative Collects – BCP 256

For those to be ordained
Almighty God, the giver of all good gifts, in your divine providence you have appointed various orders in your Church: Give your grace, we humbly pray, to all who are [now] called to any office and ministry for your people; and so fill them with the truth of your doctrine and clothe them with holiness of life, that they may faithfully serve before you, to the glory of your great Name and for the benefit of your holy Church; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

For all Christians in their vocation
Almighty and everlasting God, by whose Spirit the whole body of your faithful people is governed and sanctified: Receive our supplications and prayers, which we offer before you for all members of your holy Church, that in their vocation and ministry they may truly and devoutly serve you; through our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

Alternative Readings

Jeremiah 1:4-9
Now the word of the Lord came to me saying, 'Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, and before you were born I consecrated you; I appointed you a prophet to the nations.' Then I said, 'Ah, Lord God! Truly I do not know how to speak, for I am only a boy.' But the Lord said to me, 'Do not say, "I am only a boy"; for you shall go to all to whom I send you, and you shall speak whatever I command you. Do not be afraid of them, for I am with you to deliver you, says the Lord.’ Then the Lord put out his hand and touched my mouth; and the Lord said to me, ‘Now I have put my words in your mouth.

Psalm 84
Psalm 119:33-40
Psalm 139:1-17

Acts 6:2-7
And the twelve called together the whole community of the disciples and said, ‘It is not right that we should neglect the word of God in order to wait at tables. Therefore, friends, select from among yourselves seven men of good standing, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint to this task, while we, for our part, will devote ourselves to prayer and to serving the word.’ What they said pleased the whole community, and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and the Holy Spirit, together with Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus, a proselyte of Antioch. They had these men stand before the apostles, who prayed and laid their hands on them. The word of God continued to spread; the number of the disciples increased greatly in Jerusalem, and a great many of the priests became obedient to the faith.

Luke 22:24-27
A dispute also arose among them as to which one of them was to be regarded as the greatest. But he said to them, ‘The kings of the Gentiles lord it over them; and those in authority over them are called benefactors. But not so with you; rather the greatest among you must become like the youngest, and the leader like one who serves. For who is greater, the one who is at the table or the one who serves? Is it not the one at the table? But I am among you as one who serves.

John 13:1-15
Now before the festival of the Passover, Jesus knew that his hour had come to depart from this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end. The devil had already put it into the heart of Judas son of Simon Iscariot to betray him. And during supper Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he had come from God and was going to God, got up from the table, took off his outer robe, and tied a towel around himself. Then he poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples’ feet and to wipe them with the towel that was tied around him. He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, “Lord, are you going to wash my feet?” Jesus answered, “You do not know now what I am doing, but later you will understand.” Peter said to him, “You will never wash my feet.” Jesus answered, “Unless I wash you, you have no share with me.” Simon Peter said to him, “Lord, not my feet only but also my hands and my head!” Jesus said to him, “One who has bathed does not need to wash, except for the feet, but is entirely clean. And you are clean, though not all of you.” For he knew who was to betray him; for this reason he said, “Not all of you are clean.” After he had washed their feet, had put on his robe, and had returned to the table, he said to them, “Do you know what I have done to you? You call me Teacher and Lord—and you are right, for that is what I am. So if I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another’s feet. For I have set you an example, that you also should do as I have done to you.
