

LATE TRAINING FEE PAYMENT POLICY

In order to ensure a smooth administrative process of collecting training fees each month, Strike Force has put into place this late payment policy for your information. This policy is to ensure parents/guardians understand the way we will determine if training fees are late and any penalties that should apply if that is the case.

This policy only applies to teams who have 2 scheduled practices per week.

* It is the parents/guardian responsibility to make contact by email to info@cheerdublin.com to advise if training fees cannot be made on time. A payment agreement will then be reached by you and our administrative teams. Please note: We will not honour this agreement process on the collection day itself or in the gym. For your privacy, this should be done outside the gym. This must be done at least 24 hours prior to the scheduled collection date. Late penalties may not apply if this is the case.

- If fees are repeatedly late each month. Unfortunately, there will be no grace period offered. A yellow card/late fee will be automatically added to the account at the initial collection date.
- If athletes are missing from practice for the collection date and the immediate practice proceeding that. Training fees should still be paid within that set period. PayPal is now a great option to do this. Late charges will still apply after this time has passed.
- If a non-payment trend is identified within an account, a meeting will be called with the parent and the athletes place within the program will be up for termination.
- If you encounter financial difficulties, you should schedule a meeting with a program director by emailing info@cheerdublin.com to discuss your needs at this time.
- If a late payment is added, you must still pay this to clear your account. Failure to settle your account will result in a meeting being scheduled.
- If the athlete only practice once per week, Mini/Rec Teams – A yellow card/late penalty will be issued on the collection date, and this is due at the next session. Failure to pay on this date will result in our service being removed.
- Late fees may be waived in exceptional cases.

For administrative/security reasons, this policy will be enforced from January 2018.
