

Ramona Houston, Ph.D., PMP

Ramona Houston, Ph.D., PMP, has a multifaceted career as a scholar, speaker and strategist. An American historian and emerging public intellectual, Ramona specializes in 20th century American history, civil rights and race relations, specifically its African American and Mexican American dimensions. Through her publications Ramona informs audiences about critical issues affecting or related to these communities. A passionate speaker, Ramona also provides lectures, workshops and trainings that focus on: 1) teaching organizations strategies for developing multiracial/multiethnic coalitions and partnerships, and 2) teaching students strategies for college success. A Project Management Professional (PMP) skilled and effective in strategic planning and execution, Ramona is principal of Kaliráh Strategies, a boutique community outreach and engagement firm that assists clients in making a social impact on diverse communities. As one of The Houston Sisters, Ramona frequently teams up with her sister Rhessa Houston, DVM, to inspire and empower women and girls to fully embrace and manifest their greatness.

A passionate leader who is devoted to service, Ramona believes in civic and community engagement. She is Chair of the Board of Light Forces, Inc., a nonprofit organization dedicated to the educational and leadership development of youth and young adults. Ramona is also a member and leader of several professional, civic and community organizations.

Ramona earned her PhD degree in History from The University of Texas at Austin and her BA degree in Spanish and History from Clark Atlanta University. A native of Brownwood, Texas, Ramona currently resides in Atlanta with her husband Terreon Gully and their princess Chase, a nine-year-old Pomeranian.
