

Health Inequities and Emotional Wellness in the Time of COVID-19

Dr. ANGELICA GETER

Chief Health Officer, City of Atlanta, Georgia

COVID-19 has brought a tidal wave of disruptions to our norms in living and operating businesses. These disruptions require us to quickly shift gears and develop new norms and ways of doing business. In response, IWTT is working with its partners to help meet challenges of this critical time to ensure that we emerge with greater resilience.
