1. Guaranteed athletics aid component. The NCAA Division I Working Group on Transfers discussed in further detail the recommended athletics aid component of its uniform transfer eligibility exception for four-year transfer student-athletes. Specifically, the working group recommends institutions provide four-year transfer scholarship student-athletes with the resources to complete their baccalaureate degree, even if their degree completion goes beyond when the student-athlete completes their final season of athletics eligibility. This concept is intended to help offset the impact of transfer and position student-athletes to be academically successful and graduate with a four-year degree from their new institution. The working group agreed the concept could further assist student-athletes and institutions in making informed transfer decisions and ensure institutions are committed to the graduation outcomes of their transfer student-athletes. The working group provided initial feedback on elements of this concept and agreed the parameters must be operational across head count and equivalency sports and ensure student-athletes have access to the resources necessary to complete their baccalaureate degree. The working group will refine this concept on future videoconferences.

2. Timeline. The working group received an update on the timeline for providing the NCAA Division I Council with an overview of its uniform transfer eligibility exception concept under development. Due to adjustments made to the Council’s August 12 agenda, the working group will present its concept to the full Council at its September 16 videoconference. The Council and select standing committees will have the opportunity to provide feedback on the working group’s concept, in addition to targeted outreach efforts prior to the November 1 deadline for proposals for the 2020-21 legislative cycle.

3. NCAA Division I Men’s Basketball Oversight Committee Transfer Working Group. The working group received an update from the transfer-focused subgroup of the Men’s Basketball Oversight Committee on concepts related to the working group’s approach to a uniform transfer eligibility exception for all sports.

4. Future videoconference. The working group will hold its next videoconference at 2 p.m. Eastern time September 14.
