

NursingCE: Safe and Effective Prescription of Controlled Substances for Nurse Practitioners and other Advanced Practice Nurses (with considerations for Prescribing in New York)

Release date: September 26, 2018

Expiration date: September 26, 2021

Estimated time to complete activity: 4 hours

Overview

NursingCE provides a high-quality, effective, and comprehensive way for license practice nurses, registered nurses and nurse practitioners to earn their state-required CNE credits in a clear online format.

A course on evidence-based practice provides current content intended to help practicing nurses apply this knowledge to their practice. The course also includes questions to test competency.

Target Audience: Advanced practice nurses (nurse practitioners, nurse midwives) and physician assistants

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this activity, participants should be able to:

- Describe the three different classes of controlled substances most commonly misused: indications, risks, benefits, common adverse effects, and alternatives for opioids, central nervous system (CNS) depressants and stimulants
- Define medication tolerance, dependence and addiction
- Discuss general guidelines for safe prescribing practices
- Discuss pain management, including both acute and chronic pain and special considerations needed for controlled substance use in the elderly and pregnant populations
- Review the special circumstances involved in palliative medicine and end-of-life care
- Review the prevention, screening, and signs of potential substance abuse and addiction
- Describe appropriate response to and current treatment options for substance abuse and addiction
- Review the New York State and federal requirements for prescribing controlled substances
