

What kind of service can students expect from a Government-run loan program?

We agree with the President that America has an obligation to make sure all our young people have the opportunity to attend college – even if they can't afford it. But the Administration's budget proposal for a single, Government-controlled student loan program would deprive students and schools the choice of retaining the high-quality loan servicing and college support programs on which they've come to rely. Let's work together to ensure students continue to benefit from the practical, locally-tailored services that state-based and nonprofit student loan providers develop and implement. Learn more at efc.org.

EDUCATION FINANCE
COUNCIL

