Athletes in Action at IU is all about community and discipleship with the goal of having a true Christ follower on every team so that every athlete has an opportunity to truly know someone who follows Christ. Most of the student athletes they work with are not on an athletic scholarship and are not able to work because of their commitment to their sport and studies. Would you please consider giving to allow them some of the same opportunities “normal students” have to go to retreats and/or summer projects? Brad and Joni Noel are the leaders of AIA.

Bridges International a ministry of CRU at IU seeks to be a social, service, spiritual and student leadership resource to international students and visiting scholars. Their goal is to win, build and send international students and visiting scholars for Christ. They want to befriend them, introduce them to biblical truths, help those who are believers grow in their faith, and equip them so that when they return, they will influence their countries for Christ. In addition, they train and equip laborers who will engage and reach out to the nations that are at IU.

Jeff & Lisa Chudy jeff.chudy@cru.org ; lisa.chudy@cru.org

Bryantsville Hunger Relief Project exists to help provide food to the “poorest of the poor” — people in under-resourced nations or disaster-ravaged areas — in the name of Jesus.

Starting in the Fall of 2020, they have had to change their primary method of feeding people by growing and shipping corn to supplying funds for food purchases, either to be sent to or bought within the country.

They use a network of established food distribution organizations and reliable, well-established ministries are chosen.

Warren & Susan Crawford are the leaders of BHRP. wscraw4d@gmail.com

Their vision is to see children living safely in their own communities without the threats of trafficking and sexual exploitation. These parents raise the kids as their own and are committed to the role until all children have reached adulthood. The children they care for have grown significantly during their time in the families as they experience healing, freedom, and the love of Christ!
