The Pele Report – April 27, 2016

Aloha ~

**This is Kaypacha with the weekly Pele Report. The first thing I want to do is thank Mona Valenas for this delicious footage and her music. I am blessed and honored to be working with Mona Valenas to co-create the Astrology Rising – Co-Creating the Future Astrology Convention in Costa Rica. You might want to mark your calendars for next May 6th to the 13th. Details will be coming.*

**Kaypacha is screen sharing a beautiful aquatic video from Mona Valenas website.*

Mona is coming over here all the way from Europe, and she will be speaking and playing her music, singing and sharing her astrology and her beautiful self with us. If you want to get more of this beautiful, amazing stuff, I'll put a link to her You Tube on site, yeah.

*This underwater... we may be all feeling a little underwater these days. Especially the crocodile, man. It's the surface, we may be seeing a little bit on the surface of things, but underneath there's a whole lot more. (*laughing)*

This is April 27th of 2016. We've got the Moon in Capricorn. On Friday, it's going to move into Aquarius, and we're going to have a 3rd quarter square Moon/Sun. Sun moving through Taurus, 10 degrees, Aquarius to Taurus. It's a hard square aspect Taurus to Aquarius. Yes, they're both fixed signs, but they are both super different. It's pretty amazing, yeah. On Sunday, the Moon moves into Pisces, and it's going to be connecting up there with Neptune and the South Node of the Moon – her own South Node in Chiron before she moves into Aries on Tuesday.

As that Moon is moving around, what else is going on? Well Venus has been in Aries for a while now, and she is moving on Friday into the sign of Taurus. We've got this 3rd quarter square at the same time/day as Venus changing signs. There's going to be a change in the energy. We're going to feel the change in this energy. She's moving from Aries/fire to Taurus/earth – I'll talk a little bit more about that.

*And of course, many of you probably already know, Mercury is going retrograde, second time this year, Oh my God! (*laughing) It's happening at 23 degrees of Taurus, and it's going to go back to 14 degrees by May 23rd. So we've got this period now of retrograde Mercury, retrograde Mars, I mean we have retrogrades all over the frickin' place. We are going to talk a little bit about that.*

Above it all and beyond it all, what I really enjoy and like to see here is this beautiful trine going on between the Sun is trine Jupiter - really, really sweet. That's going on this whole week into the weekend.

*And probably above and beyond all, this T-square between Jupiter opposite Neptune, both of them squaring Saturn. You can see it in the chart in the beginning of the report. I'm going to be talking about this extensively now because it's getting tighter and tighter and tighter, like a vise, or like a room where the two walls are closing in on us. This T-square is getting tighter and tighter until May 26th, it's at its tightest! (*laughing) It's almost like a whole 'nother frickin' month, baby. Oh my God, it's intense...**

*Aloha ~ Well, these are days when it's very necessary to take lots of deep breaths. (*laughing) Like I said in my mantra last week, stay in your center where there's a stillness. Because it can be rather like a hurricane out there... whoa Nelly! Things are happening and things are going on. There's a busyness and I just want to talk about this Jupiter in Virgo.*

*First of all 2016, I said it last year, this is the year of purification. And purification means discriminating, discerning, weeding out, flushing out, cleansing out the impurities. And these are false beliefs. These are lies. These are clarifying, like ghee, clarified butter. (*laughing) You* got to cook it a little bit – let that solid shit fall down to the bottom. Well, we're all getting boiled right now, man. So the temperature is up. What is this all about? It's tough, I don't know where I should start? The Jupiter or the Neptune?

Let's look at the Neptune. Because a lot of you may be feeling low, down, physically, no energy, no drive. Where's that get up and go? (*laughing) Well, it's not happening for a little while. Saturn squaring that Neptune and Neptune moving through Pisces. The Sun moving through Taurus – fixed earth that wants to sit. And now Venus is going to join Taurus that wants to feel, sit and be still. And now Mercury is going retrograde. Rethink, reflect and redo. That's Mars retrograde... is redo and react... (*laughing)

What does this do? We are getting spiritualized and we're getting dissolved. Our old egos, our old beliefs, our old aims and goals. And sometimes our businesses, our relationships or whatever, is not holding the same sparkle. Life may be losing a little bit of its shimmering shininess these days. As we kind of like setting down, and settle down and settle down deep into the morass of our inner world. So this is very chaotic, it's very confusing. And a lot of it is about, what's the point? Why bother? What difference does it make? What does it mean? There's a lot of questioning going on with Saturn squaring from Sagittarius and Mars going retrograde through Sagittarius.

So there can be this number one, we're all kind of getting lulled into this desire to escape, deny or avoid the conflicts and all the pressure. Jupiter and North Node in Virgo is putting us all under a lot of pressure and we can have health crisis. We can have work crisis. We can have overload in the work realm, on the physical, emotional and mental realm where there's a lot going on!

All I'm going to say is, there's no accidents, man. Astrology tells us, this is purposefully designed by divine higher intelligence that wants us all, boom... to do our homework – our homework is Saturn in Sagittarius. And that is discovering what is true for us. We've got a lot of different voices in our heads. We've got a lot of different voices in the media. We've got a lot of different voices coming in all of our relationships. Look at Bernie Sanders and Donald Trump, Hilary Clinton – it's a great year for this debate. What's most important? What new laws do we want? What laws do we want to keep? What laws do we want to change? Do we want to exclude, or do we want to include?

It's helping all of us. We are all in our relationships, on Facebook, on the media, everything is coming at us. It's, 'Believe this. But this. This is important. This is valuable. This is success. You need this to protect yourself.' It's like trying to sell you this, that or the other thing. Sagittarius is the Evangelist, 'Believe this. Convert. I want to convert you over to my side of the political or the religious or my point of view, my opinion, yeah.' We want to be right, and this can lead to righteousness!

We can get into battle and arguments and debates of what's right and what's wrong. Was that the correct action? Was that appropriate? Is that correct behavior? This is all about discerning and deciphering. What is moral? What is ethical? And we have a lot of different ideas. And this is breaking out of an old paradigm where this is heaven and this is hell, this is good and this is bad. And we are moving into Aquarius which is like, woo... They do it way different in Tibet than they do in Australia, then they do in South America, then they do in Costa Rica, then they do in Alaska. We've got different cultures, we've got different beliefs. The Web is interacting, we're just opening, opening and opening. Sometimes better, sometimes worse.

Some people would like to build huge walls around their borders and stop the immigration. Sagittarius is this immigration, changing countries, changing beliefs. The foreign element is really strong. This isn't just political and physical. Let's look at the transgender movement. So many people now, gay marriages are being legalized at different places. This whole sexual revolution towards polyamory and change in relationships and change in my own personal genders, yeah. It's like, whoa I'm going to get really physical about this and switch around. It's like it's our identities. Who are we? Who am I? And what is the meaning of my life? Do I matter? Does my life matter? Am I ever going to make a difference? This is such a huge world. This is such a huge planet. There's so much. Sometimes I can feel so invisible, non-existent, and powerless. Powerless, wait till Mars retrogrades back into Scorpio. Then Lilith is going to go into Scorpio and we're all going to feel more powerless... (*laughing)

What it's all doing... yes it's confusing and it can be overwhelming. I just want to lose myself in my work and avoid the difficult conversation with my partner or my spouse about feelings, desires or needs. Or I want to lose myself in drugs, alcohol, different addictions or take myself out of the ring. Because life is like a boxing match. So, it makes us all kind of irritable. Because we are all sensitive. We are all not feeling our best.

But the train has left the station. This is what I want to say, and this is Taurus. And we're getting into the middle of Taurus. Mercury is coming back to the middle of Taurus. This middle of Taurus... the middle degrees of Taurus and Scorpio is very sensitive degrees. If we look at what began at the Equinox, it was about six weeks ago. We've got that impulse, the Sun moving through Aries, Venus through Aries, Mercury was in Aries, although we had all this Aries. I talked about Eris in Aries, Uranus in Aries, we have this charge. So the train left the station.

Then it comes around to the middle of Taurus is the 45 degree, it's the semi-square aspect in astrology. This semi-square aspect is where that original fiery impulse and desire is now kind of burned out, the boat left the harbor, the train left the station. And not it's, oh my God we're out on the sea, or the land is nowhere in sight.

Do I have the will to keep going? Did I make the right choice? Should I have really left the harbor? Am I really ready for this trip, for this journey? There's this doubt that can settle in and it can lead to depression, reflection, inward contemplation. I want to encourage you to honor that. To take it easy on yourself. To give yourself time and space. And don't fear this reflection, or closing off - spending some time alone. Taurus is the hermit. Taurus is the answer lies within, within my body. Venus comes in here into Taurus and it's inside. I need to look at myself and my values, and how valuable I am, and what I feel I need. And close off some of these voices that are out there. But use them as a mirror to reflect, 'Ah ha, this is interesting, there's a point of view and there's a point of view.'

I just want to encourage you to go beneath the surface. Like that alligator/crocodile ... you see the little nose and see the little eyes – that's the surface. And what people say, 'He's a jerk.' So we can say this and it could be true, it could be false. It could be temporary. It could be permanent. Look beneath. Why did the person say that? What is the intention? What's beneath the surface? What is the goal? What is the ambition? What is the desire in all of our thoughts, actions, words, relationships? We're motivated to get out of bed in the morning and to do this, that and the other thing. By unconscious, very many unconscious needs, forces and instincts.

And this is what life is bringing us to the brink. It's wearing us down so that our strategies and our defenses and our knowledge doesn't manage the situation. We have to feel, we have to go in, we have to go under and we have to go behind and we have to go through the veil. To really understand and to find a bigger meaning, a bigger purpose, a larger intention. I like to use the intention of healing and bringing in wholeness. And this new paradigm is about tolerance for diversity - Aquarius is unity in diversity. We are surrounded by diversity, and it's easy to get into judgment. But it's really not going to help. We have to judge for ourselves. But you know what? It's going deeper behind, what are we judging based upon? What are we basing our judgments upon?

It's an opportunity, we want to see this as an opportunity to know ourselves deeper. To find a deeper, stronger, goal, aspiration, lifelong ambition, reason to be here, deepen our relationships, our intimacy. Again, our intimacy can reveal and show us deeper layers and layers and get out from the surface, the looks and the sex, the appearances, the money or whatever – and get down beneath that.

It's uncomfortable. It's having the difficult conversations. It's being uncomfortable. And we're uncomfortable when we expand, over-expand too much. Or we swallow too much or take in too much, or we don't change enough, then we get squeezed, pushed and challenged. We're in a place of discomfort. But that discomfort, it was like I was talking about Eris, the discord, the demon of discord, is bringing up and stirring the pot that we can really see ourselves more wholly, fully and completely, and this is opening us to new realms of life, to new levels of understanding, to new levels of compassion, to higher vibrations of ah ha moments. That leads me to the manta for today.

The Mantra:

The search for deeper meaning,
Now occupies my soul.

It calls me to dwell in the subtle realms,
That the mysteries of life I may know.

There's a lot more going on than what meets the eye. There are feelings, needs and desires behind the words, behind the eyes, behind the appearance. And we're all being called to expand our knowledge base, our wisdom, our understanding. So that we can be more powerful co-creators of a new frickin' reality! (*laughing) Yeah, the wisdom keepers!

If we want to create a new paradigm, we want to do it right! We want to make it the best. We gotta see, we gotta feel and we gotta penetrate to the source. Return to the source that created us and tap into the divine guidance through reflection, through mediation, contemplation. Then we can be more tolerant and we will be less irritable because we're taking time for ourselves and we're doing our spiritual practice. And we're not getting overwhelmed and pushed into the corner so that we react.

This is a time where if you're all stirred up about something, chill yourself out and retract, and reflect before reacting and attacking! (*laughing) Because this is a time, man, where we can be like, 'That hurts. And I didn't like that, or that's a lie and just react.' Ahhhh, retrograde Mars – react! So slow down, baby! You move too fast...

Okay enough of this blah, blah, blah... let's see if I can remember it now. Of course, man, I am feeling the need myself, ya know!

One more time:

The search for deeper meaning,
Now occupies my soul.
It calls me to dwell in the subtle realms,
That the mysteries of life I may know.

May I meet you in the subtle realms...

Namaste, Aloha, So Much Love!

Kaypacha
