Lauren already had a healthy boy and she was only in her mid 20s when she noticed that she couldn't get pregnant again. She booked an appointment with a fertility clinic and they ran all sorts of tests. Nothing stood out so they diagnosed her with Unexplained Infertility. Lauren could not accept this diagnosis and got in touch with me. Being young she wasn't in a rush but was more interested in preparing her and her husband's bodies and their immediate environment for a healthy conception. They followed the program as closely as possible and made many changes to their diet and lifestyle.
