The new Bedford Playhouse officially opened the doors to its state-of-the-art film, arts, and cultural center with a three-day celebration that included celebrities, red carpets, live entertainment and family fun throughout the weekend of September 28 – 30th. Legendary music producer Clive Davis and renowned musician, actor, and comedian, Paul Shaffer, headlined Saturday night. Chevy Chase, Robert Klein and Jeffrey Tambor were among the other celebrities joining Playhouse supporters, board members and Bedford notables that evening.

The grand opening weekend kicked off a new chapter for the landmark after a more than $6m renovation and grass roots effort to save the Playhouse that began back in 2015. The new facility boasts three theaters, event spaces, a VIP Wine Tasting and Green Room designed by Brittany Bromley, plus a café that will open full time in the coming weeks.
