It's a lot of fun. When I play I feel like I'm playing NBA 2k mobile. You get to Four liters full!!! You also get to pick any NBA team! You can trade players (auction players/coaches). You can also get MVP players. (Lebron, Klay, Kyrie, KD, and 1 and only Stephen Curry. Eventually you can make it to the playoffs, but you have to get through the season. I mean it's good and all, but the big fan that I'm of NBA LIVE I think I should take the practices because they don't need it the buttons are clear. You can also make us play multiplayer with our friends. Eventually you can make that kind of little show as every time you were about to start as teams talk. The best thing you guys should do is fight the NBA ones that would be the best!!!!!! That would make me tell everyone about this game making people want to play it. Make the players make some hand gestures. Make us hear some garbage from the fans. Make us watch the coaches scream. Make us listen to music while we sing. Also that update, though as common I mean I was cavs and wanted to be warriors, so I went to switch the team said warriors, but I had jersey cavs on it didn't make any sense I mean I legit really loved this game and all by the time I realized I was stuck with the cavaliers. ??????????????????Ultimately makes us able to write with the other team. This is a very good game and I can say this from being a season a player. As the seasons go the game has up and downs, it would be season 2 being horrible and season 3 being very enjoyable. The game needs great moments (which was in season 1) NBA live mobile master (season 1&2) you gave up the team Joel embiid. and better gameplay because i can rotate my way every time and new crossover animations. This game also needs better show down rewards (if you're keeping the showdown. It also makes each program different in each way because it seems that the goal of each of them is to earn points to earn rewards, which is fun but gets old. We also need impact players, which was in season 1. would be the 92 green draymond that I enjoyed grinding for. I just want more sets because all we have is the monthly master, the campaign is currently going on, player exchange, daily beat, and showdown. A lot of things that take a lot of time to get. The most important should bring back is the big moments that was my favorite program in this games history. Also, another program that you should bring back (and I don't know why you didn't bring it back) is the week program team. This was one of the most enjoyable programs, along with campus (which was too high). It was pretty simple and quite fun. This is all I really have to say thank you for spending time on this game and thank you to everyone who works on this game for making it better and better. As an active player of this game I can honestly say that it is best put together mobile mobile Game I've ever played and it's definitely one of my top 3 favorite mobile games. The game makes it very easy to get a decent line without spending any money on the game and the gameplay is phenomenal!!!! But for game developers (if you read this) i do have some problems with the game from time to time my game just freezes randomly during a showdown match and i end up losing the game please fix this or find a way where i can get back into the match, so don't lose the match automatically (it's not my Wifi connection). I also have two suggestions for the game that I'm sure would make this game number one on the App Store. If you guys were to add a MyPlayer cam feature like console or real-time player vs player where live NBA players could play with their friends in real time, be it online or if they are sitting right next to each other. These two things would be amazing features for the game, but I love this game and I love what the developers do with this season game 3 was amazing and I hope the developers don't do another season 2, but I'm excited to see what they will do with season 4. Go download NBA Live Mobile!!! In general, this is a very fun game. But it has a lot more potential to be an amazing game. But first of all, in the video preview of the game they show putting James Harden, an SG, in the SF player slot. Training also looks different in the video. I think getting the players out of position would be great and it doesn't matter for chemistry. Anyway, my first suggestion is to allow you to under bench players in the game. It also allows instant replays and at the end of the season games / h2h quarters allow you to see the players' stats. Also, for programs, it stays more consistent with players' overalls. For example, the legends started as 89s and to make the set you had to get 4 legend cards worse for that player. Well, now, the legends are 96s and the best player in their sets are 90. They're better than the original legends that were released. The way I explained that it's a little confusing, but those who play know what I mean. Also, superstars started out as 93s and cost 120 superstar tokens. Now IT4 is a superstar 95 and costs 100 superstar tokens. Logical? Not. These are obvious problems of the MIO, other than paying to win, which is annoying and does not need to be explained. The small problems are just things would be to do more gameplay graphics and little bug fixes. I hope you read this EA and make these things happen. I'm really happy with the NBA live in Time. I've been a passionate player in this game for a little over two years and loved this game was so fun and smooth to play one of the only good basketball games out there. However, I am very disappointed and with the game because over my full time of playing this game I spent a lot of time in it and created a team I loved grinding and working hard. I've been idle for probably a month because I've been super busy and haven't had time to pick up one of my favorite games. Today I go to play the game and I log in through Facebook as I always did and won't let me in, at first I thought there was a problem with logging in, but I didn't make a new account just to see with the same Facebook log in and created a new account. They deleted my old account because I didn't play for a month! That's ridiculous I spent so much time in this game and supported it in its very frustrating early stages to see all my work disappear just because I didn't play for a month i shouldn't delete your account if you're inactive, which is just a ridiculous because now I've lost all my progress and I'm not sure I want to go through all that again and create such a high-level team that took so Long. If you are going to get this game just be careful and make sure you play it, so you don't miss all the hard work without a warning. I'm really not happy about that. Developed by Electronic Arts.
