New social prayer app launches space for the world to meet to pray. Life is tough, don't do life alone.

NASHVILLE—Prayer is hard. Life is hard. But creators of the Nimbus app know this, and say it doesn't have to be. Enter the Nimbus social prayer app: A space where prayer and social media converge.

Young adults use a variety of social networks to communicate, catch up on news and information and yes, form their faith. Nimbus enters this space with an awareness that people are looking for ways to authentically connect with others who share their concern for social issues and the world around them.

By allowing users to request prayer, create prayer circles, focus on topics of monthly global issues, and control privacy settings for anonymous prayer requests, the Nimbus creators hope to communicate to its community members that when life gets rough, they have a community to encourage and pray for and with them.

Nimbus launches Fall 2015. Join the community. Sign up for updates at nimbusprayer.com.

Download Nimbus from the App Store.

The Nimbus app is owned by The Upper Room®, a global ministry dedicated to supporting the spiritual formation of Christians seeking to know and experience God more fully. They are a 501(c)3 organization.
