

Email or social media post:

Hey Friends! I've committed to completing ____ miles (insert activity) on May 25th for New International's Miles for Missions Day, and I'd love you to join me! Miles for Missions is an effort to cover 25,000 miles - the number of miles around the earth- and raise funds for global missions in one day. New International is home to more than 225 missionaries in 40 countries, and partnering with them helps with everything from extreme poverty relief, to investment in food and water security, to church planting, to rescuing girls from trafficking, and so much more! Every dollar and every mile helps! Join team (insert team name here) at MilesforMissions.org #hopeonemileatatime, #milesformissions

Sample text:

"I am excited to share that I'm leading a team for New International's Miles for Missions initiative - an effort to cover 25,000 miles - the number of miles around the earth - and raise money for (Insert ministry you're supporting. Not sure what to write? Just respond to this email - I'm happy to help!).

(Include a personal testimony of why this matters to you).

I have personally committed to (Activity and Number of Miles) miles on May 25th and raising $____ as a team and I want you to join me. It's simple and you can commit to any number of miles and any activity you want that day. Join my team, (Insert Team Name), here - www.newinternational.org/give/together/milesformissions

Thank you for your support and consideration - let's do this together!"

Social Media Post:

Hey! I am leading a team for Miles for Missions - an initiative to cover 25,000 miles for global missions on May 25th- and I'd love your help! Can you join my team? Any donation is appreciated, but a gift of $60 or more includes a Miles for Missions t-shirt and event packet! You can complete your miles however and wherever you want (I'm walking). Thank you so much for your consideration - I really appreciate it and let me know if I can help you get signed up. Our team name is _____, and here is the link: MilesforMissions.org.

Social Media Post:

Many of you know my passion for missions and sharing the message of Jesus with a world in need. New International is home to more than 225 missionaries in 47 countries, and on May 25th, hundreds of us will cover 25,000 miles together to bring Hope...one mile at a time. This will be done through walking, swimming, running, driving, flying, boating, and any other way you can imagine.

I have committed to (activity and number of miles) on May 25th for Miles for Missions Day! My team has a goal of $_____. Can you join us?! Sign up at MilesforMissions.org. Click "Join an Existing Team" and join (team name here)! You can also donate using the same link to help us reach our goal!

Thank you for your support! #NImilesformissions #hopeonemileatatime #newinternational

Text:

Hey friends, guess what?! I am (activity, miles) on May 25th for Miles for Missions! You know I am passionate about missions and sharing the Gospel with a world in need, and I know you are too! Will you join me that day, or consider donating to help our team raise ($____) for ministry?

Make sure you are following New International's Facebook page and Instagram! We have a fun team challenge happening on social media this week....more info to come!