She Was a Mother

Something amazing happened the day Colette Sulcer met Harvey. It was in August of 2017 when Colette was out running errands with her 3-year-old daughter in tow. As she was driving near Beaumont, Texas a few days after hurricane Harvey made landfall in Texas. Suddenly she found herself in high water during heavy rain and strong winds. She grabbed her daughter and attempted to get them both to safety when she was swept away into a canal. Realizing the danger they were in, she maneuvered her daughter to her back where she hoped she would be safe and attempted to swim in the rushing water. And that is how first responders found them, the toddler clinging to her mother's back while the mother was floating face down in the water. She could not be revived (Lindsey Bever, Post Nation).

As she spoke with reporters from The Washington Post about this incident, Officer Haley Morrow of the Beaumont, TX police department said, "It's a true testament of a mother's will to sacrifice her life to keep her child alive." In other words, if I may, it wasn't really anything amazing that happened the day Colette Sulcer met Harvey. Because Colette Sulcer was a mother.

On this special Sunday that honors Mothers and Motherhood, it is good to remember that it was God's idea long ago that we honor and cherish mothers and motherhood daily. "Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long upon the land which the Lord your God is giving you" (Exodus 20:12). Paul repeated this command in Ephesians 6:2-3. May we obey it, today and everyday!

David Bragg
