God Means What He Says

In mid-January 2020 Dan Hill went to his local gym. After working out he made his way to the pool for a few laps. Then he realized that he was not only alone in the gym, but that the gym was closed and locked up for the night. He called 9-1-1, but before police arrived he took to social media with pictures that went viral because of the name of the gym in which he was imprisoned: 24 Hour Fitness! Hill asked, "Doesn't the name suggest that they stay open 24 hours?"

The gym administration officially apologized to Hill while also pointing out that, while they had not changed their name they had changed, and clearly posted, their policy. Because of low usage they decided to close from midnight to 4:00 a.m. (ABC4 News).

While it is often true in our world that one needs to carefully read the fine print in the face of commercial claims, the same is not true when it comes to our dealings with God. Even in repeating to Israel God's Old Testament Law, Moses exclaimed, "For this commandment which I command you today is not too mysterious for you, nor is it far off" (Deuteronomy 30:11). God's expectations are not unreasonable, and they come without contradicting "fine print." We can without reservation trust God.
