Distracted From Following God

Early in 2023 “spy balloons” were in the news. It was amid these sightings that a police officer in the Netherlands on patrol noticed what he believed to be yet another of these UFOs. He even took the step of posting to his social media account about the suspected “spy balloon” hovering overhead. He began tracking the object in his patrol car. But it soon became clear that whichever way he turned the presumed spy balloon always stayed just beyond reach. That is when he decided to pull over to reconsider his approach. It was then that he was able to quickly identify the unknown object as bird droppings on his car’s windshield (Daily Star, 3/1/2023).

We need to be careful who we are following as we make our way through this earthly life. Only by following Jesus can we find the way that leads to God (John 14:6). We have been provided with all the truth we need to make that journey, recorded by inspiration and preserved for us in the pages of the New Testament. Whoever is teaching us, we must carefully consider what is being taught by this inspired record. Whatever is being taught, we must sincerely compare to the teaching of the scriptures (cf. Acts 17:11).

God has promised us all that we need to know to make our way to Heaven, to Him (2 Peter 1:3). Let’s rely on what God has taught us for our own journey through the dangers of this life and teach them to those whom we meet along the way how they too can follow God.
