Captain Miles Standish had been frequently at his wife Rose's bedside. As frequently, that is, as he could while also stalking game, guarding against Natives, and felling trees to construct crude homes on shore. A bitter wind whistled through the chinks and cracks in the Mayflower, anchored in Plymouth harbor that winter of 1620-21. Rose's chills would turn to uncontrollable shaking. Then, just as suddenly, her body would be ablaze with fever. Herbs from the surgeon's chest did little to relieve her. By spring, only five wives remained out of the eighteen who had sailed to Plymouth. Rose was not among them.

Thanksgiving? What was that? The golden dreams of a New World that Miles and Rose had cherished together had evaporated into hollow hopes. And yet that fall Captain Standish joined other bereaved Pilgrims in the first Thanksgiving celebration.

You see, the real test of thankfulness is whether we can give thanks from the heart for what we do have, despite the wounds and pains of yesterday's struggles. Ours is not a fair-weather faith, but a resilient trust amid pain. The pilgrims lived close to the edge of survival. Perhaps that is why they were so thankful. How about you? Do your material blessings cause you to neglect being thankful to God who is good all the time? Did you just celebrate the one day a year when you remember to give thanks for what you have?

What if you woke up today and all you had were the things you gave thanks to God for yesterday? What would you have today?
