

A New Kind of Heroism: A Better Path to End-of-Life Care

There is a public health crisis that touches all of us: people dying badly. Without knowing our options, we become subject to what Dr. Jessica Nutik-Zitter calls the “end-of-life conveyor belt”; when mechanization and protocol override personal preference and collaborative decision-making.

Join Dr. Zitter as she explores the question; “What do we really want from ourselves, our loved ones and those entrusted with our care when it comes to death?”

Dr. Jessica Nutik-Zitter

05.09.19
6:30pm – 9:00pm

Finding a Better Path to the End

University of Missouri, Kansas City | Pierson Hall

FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Screening of “Extremis” • Keynote
PARKING INFO

Free parking on Levels 5 & 6 of the Cherry Street parking structure from 6pm to 9pm on Thursday, May 9th. There is a covered walkway on 5th floor of the garage extending from the Northeast corner. Cross the street and continue to the Atterbury Student Success Center to Pierson Auditorium.

BOOKS ARE AVAILABLE FOR SALE AT BOTH EVENTS!

05.10.19
8:00am – 10:00am

On a More Personal Note: Dr. Zitter's Book Club Event

Diastoles' Scholar's Center

$25 PER PERSON, LIMITED TO 40 SEATS

Contacts:

Janelle Williamson, APRN,
janelle.williamson@lmh.org

Deborah J. Kaercher, MPH, PhD, dkaercher1954@gmail.com

SPONSORS:

