

DFW Oncology Navigators

Connect • Engage • Share • Learn • Grow • Support

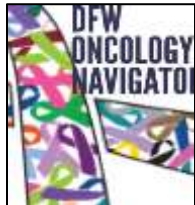

DFW Oncology Navigators is a free digital network created for oncology nurse and patient navigators in the North Texas area. The sites are used for our AONN+ Local Navigator Network events and information but you do not need to be an AONN+ member to sign up. We have 3 ways to connect:

DFW Oncology Navigators on Nursing Network

Nursing Network is a website and professional nursing network. This is a place to learn about navigator events and resources. Please join Nursing Network at <https://www.nursingnetwork.com> and then follow DFW Oncology Navigators. It's free to join and it helps us keep track of our local community of Navigators. Please include your specialties and where you are employed. If you are already a member, please be sure your email is up to date. The website has easy to find clinical and patient resources as well as our educational events. <https://dfwnavigators.nursingnetwork.com/>

DFW Oncology Navigators Facebook Page

The Facebook Page is a public space. Anyone on Facebook can view its contents. If you are a Facebook member and “like” our page then our posts may show up in your newsfeed. The page will display our events and website posts.

North Texas Oncology Navigator Connections Facebook Group

Our Facebook group is a private group. Only members in this group will see its contents. To join, search for North Texas Oncology Navigator Connections group or #NTXONC on Facebook and click on “Join Group”. This is a good place for connecting with other Navigators and asking questions among your peers. There’s also voting capabilities, the ability to upload and share resources and to easily search for topics using hash tags.

Please connect with us and get your peers to connect with us.
